

April 1, 1959, Set As Date For Completion Of New Grade School; Plans Get Final OK

The Gettysburg Joint School Board Wednesday evening at its third meeting this month gave final approval to plans and specifications for the new grade school building and set up a schedule that is intended to have the building completed by April 1, 1959.

Bids will be advertised for on January 7 and will be opened at a joint meeting of the joint school board and the Gettysburg School Authority on February 12. There will be a 60-day period within which the contracts will be awarded.

The board discussed with Francis H. Bohlen Jr., representative of Saul Ewing, Remick and Saul, Philadelphia bond counsel, general questions about the bond issue to be sold by the school authority to finance the new building. Members of the authority board, who had a meeting after the school board session adjourned at about 10:20 o'clock, sat in on the school board meeting.

$55,000 A Year For 35 Years

The board was told that with exact amounts not able to be fixed until after contracts are awarded, the districts in the Gettysburg Jointure will be paying about $55,000 a year for the next 35 or 40 years until the new building is paid for.

Without stating the total amount of the bond issue used in his estimates, Mr. Bohlen said that if a 40-year issue is sold and carries 4 1/2 per cent interest rate, the annual rental payments to the school authority by the school board will be $52,000. Over a 35-year period, he said, the annual rentals would run $55,000 to $60,000.

Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle expressed the opinion that on the basis of financial reports he has studied from the six districts involved in building the new school, "the annual rental probably should not be over $55,000 a year."

Recommend "Invited Sale"

The exact size of the bond issue, which in addition to covering the general construction cost of the new building, will include the cost of the site, furnishings and equipment and a sum for authority expenses, will determine the size of the annual rentals as will the interest rate the authority is able to get on the bond issue.

When it was brought out that current budgets of the school districts involved provide for payment of half an annual rental on the new building before July 1, Mr. Bohlen said plans will be made for the payment to be made in April when the lease agreement between the Authority and the joint school board is expected to be executed.

Mr. Bohlen explained the two methods of selling bond issues — the invited sale and the negotiated sale — and the board followed his recommendation in suggesting to the Authority that the invited sale plan be used. Under that system a prospectus will be prepared and

Saturday Last Day To Enter WGET Contest

Entries in the annual WGET Home Decorating Contest will close Saturday midnight. It was announced today by P. H. Cunningham, manager.

Each year WGET sponsors an outdoor Home Decorating Contest. This year $100 in prizes will be awarded, $50 for first place, $25 second, $15 third and $10 fourth.

Those wishing to enter the contest must send a post card or letter to WGET not later than midnight Saturday announcing his intention to enter and giving his address. All homes will be judged Monday evening.

Entries will be judged on originality, Christmas theme, attractiveness and other patterns fashioned after the season.

The judges will be Nick Ruggieri, art director, The Harrisburg Patriot; Betty Snow, director of Harrisburg Art Association, and Ernest Krape, instructor in art, Gettysburg.

If you would like to do a little something "extra" for Christmas here's your opportunity.

There are a number of needy families in Gettysburg and Adams County . . . families who, through no fault of their own, will not have a Merry Christmas, perhaps not even a decent dinner, unless someone, more fortunate, comes to the fore.

In every community, many fine families like to do something for these folks . . . provide a meal for them, perhaps only part of the meal . . . and in many cases, a Christmas gift, some clothing or the like.

This does not necessarily need to cost a lot of money. A few dollars frequently will make some needy family very happy on Christmas Day.

If you are interested please call the Adams County Free Library (Gettysburg 1135) and tell whoever answers the phone that you want to do something for a needy family. Tell them what you would like to do and they will give you the information you need . . . the name and address of the family, how many, the family and what their particular needs are . . . if you desire that information. Then you do the rest.

Whatever you do, we feel sure that you will have a merrier Christmas because of your generosity.

MARKS ANNIVERSARY

List Of Needy Outstrips Donors

The list of families needing help at Christmas time in Gettysburg and Adams County is growing faster than the list of groups and individuals undertaking to provide Christmas cheer for them, spokesmen at the Holiday Bureau at the Adams County Library said today.

The names of needy families, supplied by the Red Cross, Child Welfare Services, the Public Assistance office and other sources, continue to come in. There are now 60 names on the list and with most of them representing family units, a total of several hundred persons are involved, it was stated.

Several more persons and groups came forward Wednesday to take care of Christmas food and gifts for families on that list but more than 40 families remain to be provided for, the library staff said today.

Ten Are Killed When Vicious Twisters Tear Through South Illinois' "Tornado Alley"

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—Vicious unseasonal twisters tore through southern Illinois' "Tornado Alley" late yesterday, leaving a tragic toll of death, injury and destruction.

Nine fatalities were reported in this southern Illinois area and another in eastern Missouri. More than 100 persons were hurt — at least 60 in Murphysboro and Mount Vernon, Ill., alone — and scores of homes flat-topped. Unofficial estimates placed property damage in the millions of dollars.

Although destruction was greatest in Mount Vernon, which counted 75 to 100 homes destroyed or badly damaged, the twisters created the worst human misery in Murphysboro.

35 Are Hospitalized

Here eight persons died and at least 35 were hospitalized. Thirty homes were destroyed — 15 by fires which followed the tornadoic winds.

In addition, nearly a score of other towns reported injuries or damage by the violent late autumn weather.

ADMITS SLAYING OF M'REYNOLDS; SAYS GENERAL SHOT HIS WIFE

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Maurice Chavigny testified Wednesday Brig. Gen. Wilbur R. McReynolds shot his own wife to death and then Chavigny killed the general.

Gen. and Mrs. McReynolds were former residents of Gettysburg. He was a former professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College.

The good-looking 44-year-old Frenchman said the retired general, 64, shot Mrs. McReynolds, 61, during a quarrel over Chavigny, their chauffeur.

Speaking broken English Chavigny repudiated a confession he gave police that he killed them both. He said he had been a prisoner of the Gestapo in World War II and feared all police officers. "I'm in so shock I sign ten papers if they ask me," he told the intent, all-male jury.

Slain April 3

The general and his wife were shot to death at their home in St. Petersburg the night of April 3.

Chavigny said he had planned to commit suicide for several weeks because immigration authorities refused to renew his visa and were going to deport him.

He said that night he put on his uniform planning to leave the McReynolds home, and Mrs. McReynolds asked where he was going.

Chavigny said he was leaving for good.

He said Mrs. McReynolds replied: "I no want you to leave. I love you."

"I Shoot, Shoot, Shoot"

The general and Mrs. McReynolds then began quarreling over her love for him, and the shooting followed, Chavigny said.

Describing the shooting of the general, Chavigny told the jury: "He came to get my gun and I shoot, shoot, shoot."

Of his relationship with Mrs. McReynolds he said, "It's a long, long love story" going back to 1932. Chavigny had been an interpreter for her in France, and later was interpreter for the general in Indo-China.

Chavigny broke down several times on the stand.

He said he couldn't go through with his plans to commit suicide after the shooting because he didn't want to leave the impression he had killed both of them.

Earlier the general's sister, Miss Lavonne McReynolds, of Fort Lauderdale, testified that Mrs. McReynolds usually treated Chavigny like a son.

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower today was credited with a personal triumph in winning unanimous NATO support for the principle of establishing European missile bases and nuclear war-head stockpiles.

Eisenhower arranged to return to Washington on his plane, the Columbine III, late today. He was due in the U. S. capital about 6:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The President and Secretary of State Dulles, who is going home by way of Spain, are scheduled to make a 30-minute radio-TV report to the American people on the conference Monday night. All major U. S. networks will carry it.

Ike Is Happy

Eisenhower's aides described him as happy about the outcome of the conference—but no one in the American delegation was claiming an all-out U. S. victory.

Only three nations — Britain, Turkey and the Netherlands — have agreed to accept missiles, and the principle still needs to be pushed down to actual base sites. Norway and Denmark have rejected the 1,500-mile rockets and West Germany probably will also.

Failure to win a NATO agreement to take American missiles — with Eisenhower personally on the scene and his great prestige at stake — could have had a devastating impact at a time when the United States is seeking to revitalize the Atlantic Alliance and bolster the free world's defenses against Soviet space-age advances.

His mere presence and separate private talks at the U. S. Embassy with officials of various governments were said to have had a great influence.

The President sat in for the 2 hours and 5 minutes of last night's session of heads of government. Then he returned to the Embassy residence, the temporary White House, for a quiet dinner.

Ten Are Killed When Vicious Twisters Tear Through South Illinois' "Tornado Alley"

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—Vicious unseasonal twisters tore through southern Illinois' "Tornado Alley" late yesterday, leaving a tragic toll of death, injury and destruction.

Nine fatalities were reported in this southern Illinois area and another in eastern Missouri. More than 100 persons were hurt — at least 80 in Murphysboro and Mount Vernon, Ill., alone — and scores of homes flattened. Unofficial estimates placed property damage in the millions of dollars.

Although destruction was greatest in Mount Vernon, which counted 75 to 100 homes destroyed or badly damaged, the twisters created the worst human misery in Murphysboro.

35 Are Hospitalized

Here eight persons died and at least 35 were hospitalized. Thirty homes were destroyed—15 by fires which followed the tornado winds.

In addition, nearly a score of other towns reported injuries or damage by the violent late autumn weather.

The tornado which struck Murphysboro shortly before 5 p.m.

was described by a journalism professor as a giant fist smashing through the city, killing, maiming, destroying.

James L. C. Ford, of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, said as he watched the black funnel-shaped cloud form, "there came a roaring like an express train."

Five Houses Crushed

"Suddenly trees were smashed like tenpins," Ford said. "I saw a row of five houses crushed as though by a giant fist. . . . There was no panic. People were numbed, standing around shaking their heads. It looks like this will be a pretty sad Christmas for our folks."

The Weather Bureau ranks Illinois as the country's over-all leader in tornado deaths.

List Of Needy Outstrips Donors

The list of families needing help at Christmas time in Gettysburg and Adams County is growing faster than the list of groups and individuals undertaking to provide Christmas cheer for them, spokesmen at the Holiday Bureau at the Adams County Library said today.

The names of needy families, supplied by the Red Cross, Child Welfare Services, the Public Assistance office and other sources, continue to come in. There are now 60 names on the list and with most of them representing family units, a total of several hundred persons are involved, it was stated.

Several more persons and groups came forward Wednesday to take care of Christmas food and gifts for families on that list but more than 40 families remain to be provided for, the library staff said today.

This cash dividend is in addition to the four per cent cash dividend paid June 29. The bank on July 31 gave its stockholders a stock dividend of 25,000 shares of stock with a par value of $125,000.

FACE CODE CHARGES

Ten-day notices have been sent by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder to the following motorists: Jonathan Taylor, Gettysburg R. 3, charged by borough police with driving too fast for conditions; James Lau Jr., 114 Buford Ave., charged by state police with having a defective rear light on his car.

ADMITS SLAYING OF M'REYNOLDS; SAYS GENERAL SHOT HIS WIFE

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Maurice Chavigny testified Wednesday Brig. Gen. Wilbur R. McReynolds shot his own wife to death and then Chavigny killed the general.

Gen. and Mrs. McReynolds were former residents of Gettysburg. He was a former professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College.

The good-looking 44-year-old Frenchman said the retired general, 64, shot Mrs. McReynolds, 61, during a quarrel over Chavigny, their chauffeur.

Speaking broken English Chavigny repudiated a confession he gave police that he killed them both. He said he had been a prisoner of the Gestapo in World War II and feared all police officers. "I'm in so shock I sign ten papers if they ask me," he told the intent, all-male jury.

Slain April 3

The general and his wife were shot to death at their home in St. Petersburg the night of April 3.

Chavigny said he had planned to commit suicide for several weeks because immigration authorities refused to renew his visa and were going to deport him.

He said that night he put on his uniform planning to leave the McReynolds home, and Mrs. McReynolds asked where he was going. Chavigny said he was leaving for good.

He said Mrs. McReynolds replied: "I no want you to leave. I love you."

"I Shoot, Shoot, Shoot"

The general and Mrs. McReynolds then began quarreling over her love for him, and the shooting followed, Chavigny said.

Describing the shooting of the general, Chavigny told the jury: "He came to get my gun and I shoot, shoot, shoot."

Of his relationship with Mrs. McReynolds he said, "It's a long, long love story," going back to 1932. Chavigny had been an interpreter for her in France, and later was interpreter for the general in Indo-China.

Chavigny broke down several times on the stand.

He said he couldn't go through with his plans to commit suicide after the shooting because he didn't want to leave the impression he had killed both of them.

Earlier the general's sister, Miss Lavonne McReynolds, of Fort Lauderdale, testified that Mrs. McReynolds usually treated Chavigny like a son.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Premier Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower was a literary Sputnik. Of all the Russian letters to Eisenhower this last one was the best written, the snowiest and the best timed.

In its way, it had the same effect as the real Sputniks. It made the American allies sit up and take notice. Letters similar to the one received by Eisenhower were sent to the other allies at the same time.

They were delivered at a moment when the Allies—then about to open their North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris—were divided on what to do in the face of Russia's obvious military power.

The letter divided them some more.

Minimize Importance
The American reaction to Bulganin's note was the same as Eisenhower's first reaction to the Sputniks: an attempt to minimize its importance.

The administration hasn't yet answered the letter or issued a formal statement on it. Instead, it let two press officers dismiss it as propaganda before the State Department had even released a translation of it.

But this wasn't the reaction of the Allies. Some of them arrived at Paris wanting far more serious attention for the letter than a curt dismissal.

Their reaction—even though the letter upon testing may prove to be only propaganda—was: Let's take it more seriously than that and try to find out whether the Russians mean it.

Arms Race Worse
In short, Bulganin said. The arms race gets worse and may end up badly for everybody. Before it does the nations ought to disarm, or at least get down to talking disarmament, even if it requires another summit meeting.

This letter hit the West Europeans at a time when they were still jittery over the realization—forced on them by the flight of the Sputniks—that Russia had missiles and that atomic-tipped missiles could flatten Western Europe.

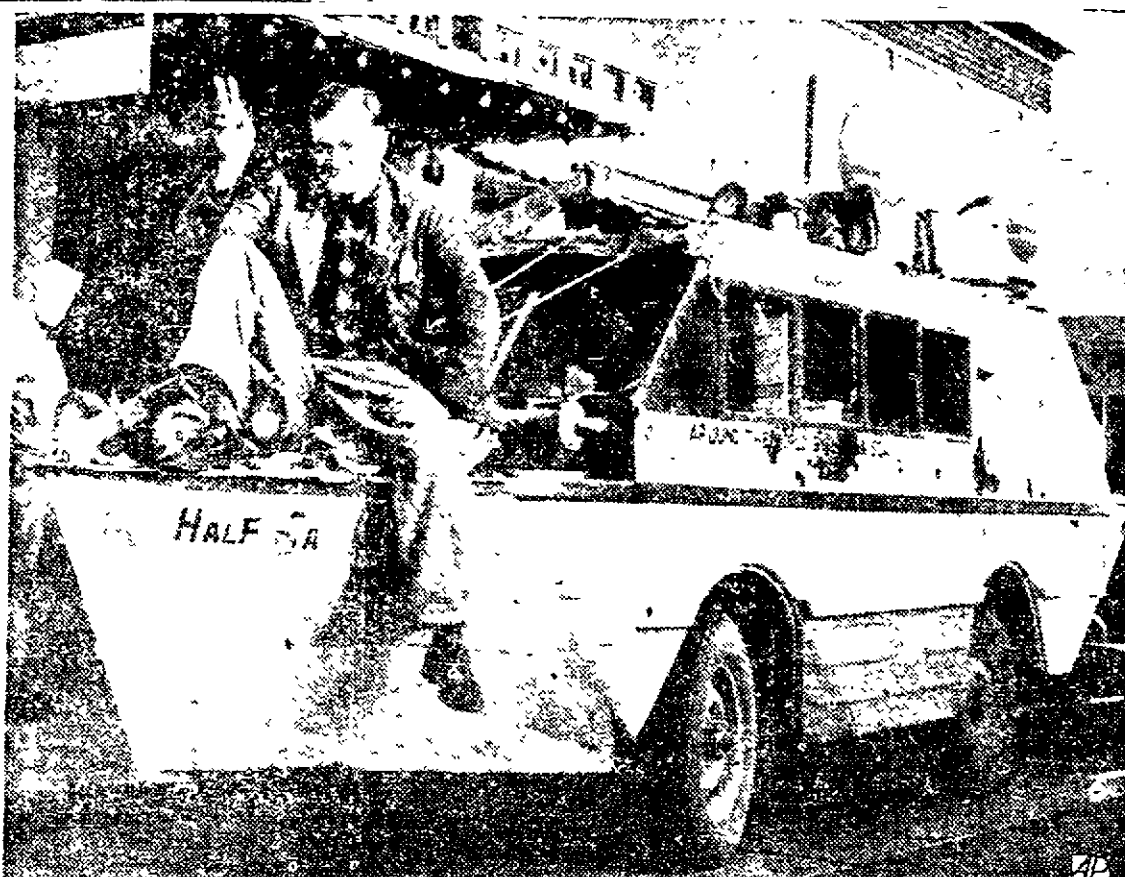

They also realized, more than at any time since World War II, that the once big European powers were now only military pigmies between the two giants, the United States and Russia. The old order was gone.

Disarmament Is Attractive
So for them, the thought of disarmament now has more attraction than ever. Yet the Eisenhower administration brought to the NATO meeting nothing much more than proposals for even greater armaments.

The United States had to yield a little bit to the European desire to explore Bulganin's letter for a possible escape from the arms race. Yesterday NATO moved in two cautious directions, both a reaction to Bulganin's letter:

1. Setting up machinery to try for new disarmament talks with Russia. Such talks have been going on for years. The last one broke up a few months ago.

2. Setting up machinery to examine Bulganin's letter and see whether it might be worthwhile to undertake new talks between foreign ministers. This wouldn't be

WANTS CHANGE IN INSURANCE BUYING POLICY

HARRISBURG — The General State Authority today, summed two proposals aimed at tightening its insurance purchasing practices.

Genevieve Blatt, internal affairs secretary and member of the GSA executive board, said insurance buying for the Government would be "drastically in need of change."

She introduced two resolutions at the board's monthly meeting yesterday that would:

Require the Department of Property and Supplies to make insurance purchases for the GSA.

Prohibit the GSA from purchasing full coverage fire insurance on its projects and allow for purchase of $10,000 deductible policies instead.

The executive Board agreed to turn the proposals over to the GSA insurance committee for study.

Department Pays Rentals
Under the law, the Property and Supplies Department pays insurance premiums on all buildings constructed by the GSA. The a summit meeting that would include Eisenhower, Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev.

If Bulganin's letter was propaganda only, the Russians already have obtained a lot of mileage from it. This country has done nothing yet to offset it.

department pays rentals for use of GSA constructed buildings.

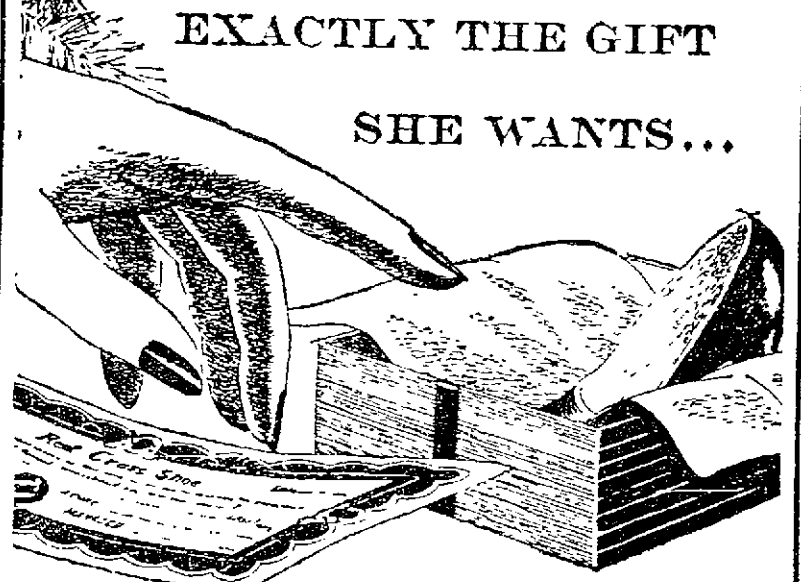

Miss Blatt contended "nobody is living to get the GSA out of business on insurance."

Gov. Leader, who is ex officio chairman of the GSA, said it is possible the state could save $40,000 to $70,000 a year by purchasing $10,000 deductible fire insurance policies. Under such plans the state would assume payments of damages up to $10,000 with the insurance companies footing the costs for damages beyond that.

Miss Blatt said the present system is "too loose" and said revision would "see that the stage sets in money's worth, which I don't think it has."

"The Property and Supplies Department pays for the insurance so I don't see why they don't place it," she said. "I'm not concerned with commissions and who gets them."

HINT SOUTHERN JUDGE INVOLVED IN UNION PAYOFF

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON —The Senate rackety hearings turned today to new allegations of a payoff to "fix" a criminal case in Tennessee.

Glenn W. Smith, Tennessee Teamsters Union boss, refused to say whether any part of an alleged $18,500 payment by his union went to Judge Raulston Schoolfield of Chattanooga to kill a conspiracy indictment against Smith and 12 other Teamster officials.

Smith invoked the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination.

The investigating committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) announced it would explore this case more deeply, then shift to another said to involve allegations of a payoff. The committee gave no details of the second case.

Won't Attend Hearing

McClellan invited the Criminal Court judge to attend the hearing and reply to any derogatory testimony mentioning him. Kennedy said the opportunity is still open but that his last word from the judge was that Schoolfield did not plan to come to the hearing.

In Chattanooga, Schoolfield said he had no comment on the testimony.

Summons for questioning today was issued to L. Boing, secretary-treasurer of Chattanooga Teamsters Local 515.

All Union Men
Boing was one of 13 defendants. All officials or members of Local 515, who had been charged with conspiring to commit violence in a labor dispute. In 1952, Judge Schoolfield ordered a jury to acquit 12 of the 13 defendants. The 13th had left the state and never was tried.

The previous year, Schoolfield had dismissed the indictment against the 13, but the Tennessee Supreme Court reversed this ruling and ordered the case tried.

Raymond Hixson of Hixson, Tenn., testified that Boing had told him two days before the indictment against the 13 Teamsters was quashed that $18,500 had been passed for this purpose "and there's not going to be any trial."

Hixson, a deputy state fire marshal, said there was "quite a bit of talk" that Schoolfield got the money. But Hixson claimed no first-hand knowledge of any payoff.

Dick Christy of North Carolina State carried the ball 348 times during his career. He gained a net of 1,817 yards.

IKE SORRY TO LEAVE PARIS; HOME ON FRIDAY

PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the decisions of the NATO summit conference should make war less likely, peace more sure.

In a statement issued as he made ready to fly back to Washington, the President said:

"I leave with mixed regret and gladness.

"I regret that I could not have stayed longer in this land of many of my warmest memories and friendships, and that I could not have spent a longer time with my associates of the NATO partnership.

Happy Over Results

"But I am happy that our work here has been conducted frankly in friendship and cooperation. Our unity of effort and purpose has been strengthened. The decisions promise far-reaching results, and should make war less likely, peace more sure.

"Now we must carry forward the results of our deliberations here. I return home confident that the American people, like the people of all NATO nations, will endorse and support the decisions made here for a stronger North Atlantic Alliance.

"Goodbye. See you again."

The President's schedule calls for landing at Washington about 6:30 a.m. tomorrow.

In Fine Health

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said the state of Eisenhower's health at the end of the four-day NATO conference is fine. Press secretary James Hagerty said Snyder told him that everything is fine with the President—"nothing out of the ordinary, everything normal, except that he still is under medical supervision and has not been medically discharged."

After the NATO conference concluded, Eisenhower returned to the American Embassy residence and had a quiet lunch with his son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower. Then he got in a nap.

however, Mrs. McReynolds paid little attention to Chavigny and the normally gay Frenchman was quiet and kept to himself, Miss McReynolds said.

Several neighbors testified on Wednesday to hearing Chavigny talking in loud tones for several minutes, then several shots fired in rapid order.

Mrs. George Colt said she could see Chavigny and the general through a picture window in the living room but did not see Mrs. McReynolds.

She said she heard Chavigny say: "Don't move. Don't move. . . . You play with me, my darling. . . . C'est fini. C'est fini."

("C'est fini" means "it is finished.")

Then came the shots. She said she recognized Chavigny's voice easily because of his broken English.

For some time after the shooting Chavigny was moving around back and forth in the house, she said.

Police testified to being called to the home, firing at a car which drove away at a high speed without heeding warnings to stop, and of picking up Chavigny in the car later that night. A nine-shot .22-caliber pistol of the type which made the bullet wounds was on the seat beside him.

REP. J. COOPER OF TENNESSEE DIES SUDDENLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, died last night after suffering an attack of coronary thrombosis. He was 64.

The party lineup in the House now stands at 230 Democrats and 200 Republicans, with five vacant seats, including Cooper's.

Cooper represented Tennessee's 8th District. He had served in Congress continuously since 1929, and had headed the Ways and Means Committee since 1955.

The Tennessee entered Bethesda Naval Hospital near here Dec. 5 after suffering what was described as a mild coronary thrombosis. The hospital said his recovery was satisfactory until he suddenly suffered another severe attack about 6:20 p.m. yesterday. He died shortly afterward.

Mills, 48, has been tagged on Capitol Hill as a lieutenant of House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), and he has been mentioned as a possible successor to Rayburn whenever the Texan vacates the chair.

NATO Conference Closes With Allies Determined To Arm Europe And Plea To Russia To Resume Disarmament Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower and other NATO government chiefs ended their summit conference today with a firm decision to arm Western Europe against Russia's nuclear missile might, and an appeal to Moscow to resume disarmament negotiations with the West.

Blame for the decision to base American medium-range missiles and stock U.S. nuclear warheads in Europe was put squarely on Russia. A communique said the Soviet Union is giving the most modern weapons to its armed forces, and so the West must do so, too.

The conference, which began Monday, ended after a final session lasting two hours and 45 minutes. President Eisenhower, who leaves here tonight, was present throughout.

Call Foreign Ministers
The summit session called for a conference of foreign ministers with Russia to resolve the East-West deadlock on disarmament negotiations.

"Soviet leaders have made it clear that the most modern and destructive weapons of all kinds are being introduced as a means of warfare," the communique said.

"We are therefore resolved to achieve the most effective pattern of NATO military strength."

"To this end NATO has decided to eschew stocks of nuclear warheads readily available for de-lense in case of need. In view of the present Soviet policies in the field of new weapons, the Council has also decided that intermediate-range ballistic missiles will have to be put at the disposal of the supreme commander allied forces in Europe."

The chiefs of government said they had decided to coordinate the development, research and production of the best modern arms in Europe.

On other major issues, the NATO chiefs made these comments:

MIDDLE EAST — We affirm the support of our governments for the independence and sovereignty of states in the Middle East. The stability of this important area is vital to world peace.

AFRICA — We hope the countries and peoples of that continent, who are disposed to do so, will cooperate with the free world.

They expressed concern over recent events in Indonesia.

The NATO leadership expressed their desire to promote disarmament negotiations with the Russians, preferably within the framework of the United Nations. But should the Soviet Union refuse to participate in the work of the UN Disarmament Subcommittee, the communique continued, "we would welcome a meeting at the foreign ministers level to resolve the deadlock."

Russia announced during the recently concluded UN Assembly that it would no longer negotiate in the five-nation subcommittee because it was stacked 4-1 against her. Subsequently the Assembly agreed to expand the permanent 12-nation disarmament commission to 25 nations, but the Soviets said the West and its allies still outweighed it.

See New Suggestions
The communique also stated NATO's willingness to examine any proposal from any source for controlled reduction of arms of all types.

In effect the 15 Atlantic Pact nations are telling the Soviets to make good on their promises of peace if they don't want 1,500-mile-range rockets based within range of Moscow. The Russians have a year to 18 months—the time the United States says it will take to have the missiles available.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles brought the 14 other nations around to their concept that the alliance must publicly declare its intention to base intermediate range ballistic missiles — the IRBM — in Continental Europe and with stockpiles of nuclear warheads at hand in case of war.

New Red Talks
But to win this, the American leaders had to consent to a new attempt to end the cold war through negotiations with the Kremlin.

Eisenhower will leave for home later today and Dulles will fly to Madrid tomorrow for talks with Spanish officials before continuing home. Both Eisenhower and Dulles will give a 30-minute radio report to the American public Monday on the conference.

Add Guard Rail
The only change made in the plans Wednesday evening was the addition of a guard rail atop a brick wall bordering the play area for the children from two ground floor special education rooms.

Buchart representatives went over detailed plans for the plot layout, arrangement of play area, drives, exterior lighting and grades and it was brought out that the final grading and seeding of the grounds will be under a separate contract some time after completion of the building.

The board was shown elevation sheets for the L-shaped building that will face E. Broadway, east of the Harrisburg Rd. An overhead door will be installed in an enlarged tool storage room to provide storage space for a tractor and a school station wagon.

Review Detailed Plans
The board went over detailed construction plans for the building which will be finished generally on the interior with painted concrete block walls. Ceilings will be acoustic plaster and asphalt tile flooring will be used with an alternate bid to be taken for terrazzo for the corridors. An alternate bid also will be asked on aluminum window units instead of steel as shown in the base specifications. As a cost cutting means, nearly all windows in the structure will be standard sizes, it was pointed out.

printed and will be circulated among prospective bidders who then will submit bids. That was the plan used very successfully on the last school bond issue here when 12 firms submitted bids, it was pointed out.

To Pick Name In January

The master of choosing a name for the new school, which had been scheduled for Wednesday evening, was deferred until January with other business running the meeting past 10 o'clock.

The discussion of the bidding plans and bond sales came after the board had spent more than an hour going over sheet after sheet of detailed plans for the new structure. A formal resolution approving the final plans and specifications and asking the School Authority to advertise for bids was adopted.

The plans for the new school will go before the state Department of Public Instruction December 31 for a final review and on January 2 will be submitted to the state Arts Commission for a final okay. Before those two dates, an approval also will be secured from the state Department of Labor and Industry.

Earliest Safe Date

On February 4, representatives of the architect, the Buchart Engineering Co., Inc., York, will meet with the Finance and Planning committee of the joint school district to go over contractors' choice items submitted by prospective bidders.

The April 1, 1959, completion date on the new building was decided upon as the earliest that could be agreed upon safely and without extra cost to the school district if an attempt were made to rush the building through to completion sooner.

It was pointed out also that the date will allow time for furnishing and equipping the building before the end of school so that pupils could help move into the building before school closes in May, 1959.

Add Guard Rail

The only change made in the plans Wednesday evening was the addition of a guard rail atop a brick wall bordering the play area for the children from two ground floor special education rooms.

Buchart representatives went over detailed plans for the plot layout, arrangement of play area, drives, exterior lighting and grades and it was brought out that the final grading and seeding of the grounds will be under a separate contract some time after completion of the building.

The board was shown elevation sheets for the L-shaped building that will face E. Broadway, east of the Harrisburg Rd. An overhead door will be installed in an enlarged tool storage room to provide storage space for a tractor and a school station wagon.

Classroom details were gone over. Six rooms to house smaller pupils will have built-in toilets. All classrooms will have incandescent lighting and individual heat control units. There were drawings too on exterior wall construction showing a four-inch brick, a two-inch cavity and a four-inch block wall. The two special education rooms will have radiant heat as a cost-cutting device because rock was encountered in proposed trenching.

The building will have a gas-powered generator for an emergency electrical system. Plumbing details were reviewed and the board decided to go into the matter of adequate fire hydrants in the area with the Municipal Authority. The question of fencing was discussed but was not included in the general contract.

To Remove Trees

Architects said all trees will be removed along the north side of E. Broadway to make way for the 30-foot roadway, grass plot and sidewalk.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham presided at the meeting at the high school building with all member boards represented. Richard A. Folkenroth.

NATO Conference Closes With Allies Determined To Arm Europe And Plea To Russia To Resume Disarmament Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower and other NATO government chiefs ended their summit conference today with a firm decision to arm Western Europe against Russia's nuclear missile might, and an appeal to Moscow to resume disarmament negotiations with the West.

Blame for the decision to base American medium-range missiles and stock U.S. nuclear warheads in Europe was put squarely on Russia. A communique said the Soviet Union is giving the most modern weapons to its armed forces, and so the West must do so, too.

The conference, which began Monday, ended after a final session lasting 2 hours and 45 minutes. President Eisenhower, who leaves here tonight, was present throughout.

Call Foreign Ministers
The summit session called for a conference of foreign ministers with Russia to resolve the East-West deadlock on disarmament negotiations.

"Soviet leaders have made it clear that the most modern and destructive weapons of all kinds are being introduced as a means of warfare," the communique said.

"We are therefore resolved to achieve the most effective pattern of NATO military strength."

"To this end NATO has decided to establish stocks of nuclear warheads readily available for defense in case of need. In view of the present Soviet policies in the field of new weapons, the Council has also decided that intermediate-range ballistic missiles will have to be put at the disposal of the supreme commander allied forces in Europe."

The chiefs of government said they had decided to coordinate the development, research and production of the best modern arms in Europe.

On other major issues, the NATO chiefs made these comments:

MIDDLE EAST — We affirm the support of our governments for the independence and sovereignty of states in the Middle East. The stability of this important area is vital to world peace.

AFRICA — We hope the countries and peoples of that continent, who are disposed to do so, will cooperate with the free world. They expressed concern over recent events in Indonesia.

The NATO leadership expressed their desire to promote disarmament negotiations with the Russians, preferably within the framework of the United Nations. But should the Soviet Union refuse to participate in the work of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee, the communique continued, "we would welcome a meeting at the foreign ministers level to resolve the deadlock."

Russia announced during the recently concluded U.N. Assembly that it would no longer negotiate in the five-nation subcommittee because it was stacked 4-1 against her. Subsequently the Assembly agreed to expand the parent 12-nation disarmament commission in 25 nations, but the Soviets said the West and its allies still outweighed it.

Seek New Suggestions
The communique also stated NATO's willingness to examine any proposal from any source for controlled reduction of arms of all types.

In effect the 15 Atlantic Pact nations are telling the Soviets to make good on their promises of peace if they don't want 1,500-mile-range rockets based within range of Moscow. The Russians have a year to 18 months—the time the United States says it will take to have the missiles available.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles brought the 14 other nations around to their concept that the alliance must publicly declare its intention to base intermediate range ballistic missiles — the IRBM — in Continental Europe and with stockpiles of nuclear warheads at hand in case of war.

New Red Talks
But to win this, the American leaders had to consent to a new attempt to end the cold war through negotiations with the Kremlin.

Eisenhower will leave for home later today and Dulles will fly to Madrid tomorrow for talks with Spanish officials before continuing home. Both Eisenhower and Dulles will give a 30-minute radio-T report to the American public Monday on the conference.

Review Detailed Plans
The board went over detailed construction plans for the building which will be finished generally on the interior with painted concrete block walls. Ceilings will be acoustic plaster and asphalt tile flooring will be used with an alternate bid to be taken for terrazzo for the corridors. As a cost cutting means, nearly all windows in the structure will be standard sizes, it was pointed out.

IKE SORRY TO LEAVE PARIS; HOME ON FRIDAY

PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the decisions of the NATO summit conference should make war less likely, peace more sure.

In a statement issued as he made ready to fly back to Washington, the President said:

"I leave with mixed regret and gladness.

"I regret that I could not have stayed longer in this land of many of my warmest memories and friendships, and that I could not have spent a longer time with my associates of the NATO partnership.

Happy Over Results

"But I am happy that our work here has been conducted frankly in friendship and cooperation. Our unity of effort and purpose has been strengthened. The decisions promise far-reaching results, and should make war less likely, peace more sure.

"Now we must carry forward the results of our deliberations here. I return home confident that the American people, like the people of all NATO nations, will endorse and support the decisions made here for a stronger North Atlantic Alliance.

"Goodbye. See you again."

The President's schedule calls for landing at Washington about 6:30 a. m. tomorrow.

In Fine Health

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said the state of Eisenhower's health at the end of the four-day NATO conference is fine. Press secretary James Hagerly said Snyder told him that everything is fine with the President. "Nothing out of the ordinary, everything normal, except that he still is under medical supervision and has not been medically discharged."

After the NATO conference concluded, Eisenhower returned to the American Embassy residence and had a quiet lunch with his son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower. Then he got in a nap.

however, Mrs. McReynolds paid little attention to Chavigny and the normally gay Frenchman was quiet and kept to himself, Miss McReynolds said.

Several neighbors testified on Wednesday to hearing Chavigny talking in loud tones for several minutes, then several shots fired in rapid order.

Mrs. George Colt said she could see Chavigny and the general through a picture window in the living room but did not see Mrs. McReynolds.

She said she heard Chavigny say: "Don't move. Don't move. . . . You play with me, my darling. . . . C'est fini. C'est fini."

"(C'est fini) means 'it is finished.'"

Then came the shots. She said she recognized Chavigny's voice easily because of his broken English.

For some time after the shooting Chavigny was moving around back and forth in the house, she said.

Police testified to being called to the home, firing at a car which drove away at a high speed without heeding warnings to stop, and of picking up Chavigny in the car later that night. A nine-shot .22-caliber pistol of the type which made the bullet wounds was found on the seat beside him.

EXPLORE

Explorers are among the great of this earth. To them we are deeply in debt. Those early explorers who went across America in covered wagons, and those who dug deep into mines for useful substances, and those scientists who worked day and night against untold hardships and discouragements — to them we owe a debt that can never be paid.

What a benefactor to the entire world we have in Thomas A. Edison, and such men as Pasteur, Dr. Alexis Carrel, Gen. Lindbergh, Henry Ford, and a host of others, who willingly took chances and hardships that all the world might benefit! Admiral Peary, the final discoverer of the North Pole, did an inspiring thing. The late Comdr. Fitzhugh Green wrote an inspiring book on Peary's life which he termed "The Man Who Refused To Fail."

Every one of us at times likes to explore. I like to explore books that have thoughts in them from which I can quote, and invite others to enjoy. I like to explore in second-hand book shops. I have thereby gained many a literary treasure. I like to explore the minds of interesting people. It is interesting and profitable to explore a city, noting its many attractions and landmarks. I once came upon a small plot of land in the South that had a metal fence about it, and the plot was "Dedicated to God!" I do not recall that it had any other markings or identification.

There are many interesting things to explore in cities like New Orleans, Charleston, South Carolina, San Francisco, and of course New York City. It would be a good thing if each one of us would try to explore ourself!

Just Folks

THE HOMESICK BRIDES

Let's see, June brides have married been
Just six short months, but lo!
Already they are homesick and
Back home again they go.

Oh, lonesome groom! Oh, woeeful groom!
There's little joy in life;
But it's the common fate of man
To lose a homesick wife.

Cheer up! Cheer up! The worst is yet
To come to you I fear.
It won't be long ere she'll return
And bring her people here.

PARISH COUNCIL HOLDS ANNUAL XMAS PARTY

Approximately 50 were in attendance at the annual Christmas party and covered dish turkey supper, held on Tuesday evening in St. Aloysius Parish Hall by the St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women. Grace before meals was led by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle. Following the meal, there was a business meeting with Mrs. Clyde H. Rohrbaugh, vice president, in charge. Reports were heard from Mrs. Regina Arter and Mrs. C. Donald Bowser, following opening prayer by the pastor.

It was announced that cartons will be placed in the vestibule of the church during the coming week-end for donations of toys, food-stuffs or cash, for the needy families of the parish for Christmas. Mrs. Z. W. Sanders reported that a total of approximately eight hundred pieces of clothing had been received and shipped in the annual Thanksgiving clothing collection for Foreign Relief. Mrs. Stewart N. Long reported having purchased a Christmas gift for the council's adopted orphan. It was noted that member Mrs. Mary O'Brien is ill. Plans were completed for the children's Christmas party held this afternoon in the parish hall for the pupils of the parochial school and the pre-school children of the parish. The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. Rohrbaugh, Mrs. Francis Prato and Helen Leseque.

It was suggested that a "Question Box" be established, with members taking their first questions on matters of religion which they do not understand or would like discussed, to the next meeting; at each following meeting a number of these questions will be answered by the pastor, or discussed by the group, or when the Parish Study Club chairman is in charge of a meeting a question and answer period will provide the program.

Father Boyle spoke briefly, thanking the members for their assistance in the recent bazaar, and requested attendance of families at the Triduum of Prayer in honor of the Infant Saviour, to be held, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Miss Marie Budde was chairman of the program for the evening and presented two of her music pupils, Gary Long and Loretta O'Donnell, who entertained with a selection. A Christmas carol quiz, with Miss Budde at the piano, was won by Mrs. Stewart N. Long. The guess package contributed by Mrs. Ivan Rickrode was received by Mrs. John Collins and a special award went to Mrs. Albert Ozminski.

A Christmas carol sing was enjoyed, by candlelight and Miss Budde was piano accompanist. The decorations included, in addition to the lighted candles on the tables, centerpieces of sleighs; there were also a lighted Christmas tree and a crib, as well as a tapestry with the Holy Family, on display. Candy canes provided favors. Gifts were exchanged by the members.

The committee in charge of table arrangements and menu included Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, chairman, Mrs. C. Donald Bowser, Mrs. Conrad C. Hull, Mrs. George A. Kress Jr., Mrs. Charles W. Hood, Mrs. Homer Sanders, Mrs. Noah C. Snyder, Mrs. Robert Daughman, Mrs. Richard Myers, Mrs. Raymond Clinegan, Miss Evelyn C. Altoff and Miss Budde. The following committee will be in charge of the January meeting: Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mrs. Herbert Prock, Mrs. Daniel Dietrich, Mrs. William Rioridan, Mrs. Albert Ozminski and Mrs. Allen Wastler.

ISSUE WARNING ON POWWOWING

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Beware of glib talking strangers who claim they can cure your ailments by touching you. State police say they may relieve you of your valuables instead.

A new warning went out from state police here last night after an elderly man in nearby Hallam, David Dry, 88, reported the theft of his wallet, containing $15 and old three-cent piece.

State police said this, a similar incident in Lancaster earlier this week and another incident in this area leads them to believe an old racket, known as "powwowing" in central Pennsylvania, may be in operation here.

TRUCKERS ASK HEAVY DAMAGES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. is asking more than one million dollars damages in the wake of a court ruling that 24 railroads and a public relations firm campaigned to put it out of business.

The association asked U. S. District Court Judge Thomas J. Clary yesterday to award it a total of $1,370,098 from a group of Eastern railroads and the public relations firm of Carl Byoir & Associates, Inc., of New York City.

Last October Judge Clary ruled in favor of the truckers' 250-million-dollar treble damage suit against the railroads and the public relations firm.

But the judge ruled that damages actually awarded would be based on money lost by the truckers "because of the railroads' campaign of destruction of good will."

The truckers said that most of the money went to their own public relations firm — Allied Public Relations, Inc., of New York City — to counteract the activities of the railroads.

Exonerate Woman In Fatal Accident

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Katherine Rife, 48, of Chambersburg R. 5, was exonerated last night by a Franklin County coroner's jury in the Dec. 14 auto death of Paul G. Noel, 26.

She and her daughter, Joyce, 15, testified that Noel was walking near the center of the street near the outskirts of Chambersburg when she came upon him in her car. She said she did not have time to avoid hitting him. State police said evidence supported her testimony.

Noel, of Patton, Cambria County, had been living in this area for some time, working mainly at odd jobs.

GUARD STARTS PRISON SENTENCE

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A former reform school guard today began serving a 10-to-25-year prison term for bank robbery.

Norman S. Batcheler, 52, of Mechanicsburg, was sentenced yesterday by U. S. District Judge Frederick V. Follmer for the Oct. 9 robbery of the Marysville (Perry County) First National Bank. All but $150 of the $7,524 loot was recovered following Batcheler's arrest, less than 24 hours after the robbery.

Batcheler blamed heavy drinking and debts for prompting him to attempt the robbery.

In other action in Federal court yesterday, Louis J. Gilbert of McKeesport was put on five years' probation for passing worthless checks.

Atom-generated Electricity Surges From World's First Commercial Power Station

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH
SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (AP)—Atom-generated electricity surged from the world's first full-scale completely commercial nuclear power station today.

Jack Waugaman, 37, of nearby Hookstown, Pa., was the "man of the hour" when the historic 110-million-dollar plant produced its first electricity for homes, shops and factories from splitting uranium atoms.

Girls To Sing CAROLS FRIDAY

The annual Christmas carol singing by the Brownies and Girl Scouts of the community will take place Friday evening at 7 o'clock beside the Littlestown State Bank, S. Queen St. The caroling will be in charge of Mrs. L. Robert Snyder, who will be assisted by other troop leaders. Following the caroling, the girls will be treated at the POS of A hall on E. King St. In case of inclement weather tomorrow night, the singing will take place at 7 p.m., Monday.

Representatives of the local Girl Scout troops participated in the annual Adams County Scout caroling last evening in Gettysburg.

All turkeys will be awarded prizes at the weekly public party to be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226 at 8 p.m., Friday, in the basement room of the POE Home, W. King St.

Mrs. Claude Flickinger will discuss the topic, "No Room For Him" at the December meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall, on Friday, 7:30 p.m., at the church. Nomination and election of officers will be held during the business session.

St. Aloysius Catholic Church will sponsor the annual public party in the parish hall on Saturday evening starting at 8 p.m. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be available.

Paper mills in the U. S. use about 600 million pounds of corn starch a year to bind fibers and smooth paper services.

Didn't Analyze Feelings
"It was my job," said Waugaman matter-of-factly when asked his reaction. "I didn't analyze my feelings at the time. Maybe I was just too busy, but come to think of it that must have been a pretty significant thing."

"You know, there's no difference between the electricity here and any other," he added. "And the generator controls are much the same as in a regular coal plant."

Called a switchboard operator, Waugaman mans the plant's electrical control board on the mid-night to 8 a.m. shift. His chief job is seeing that the power flows into the company's lines properly, a highly technical operation.

Flow Stepped Up
A switchboard operator for about five years, he began training at Shippingport a year ago. He joined Duquesne Light 1 year ago as a laborer.

When Waugaman first touched the control switch at 12:39 a.m., only 5,000 kilowatts of electricity pulsed into Duquesne Light's system.

During the day this was stepped up to 20,000 and a company spokesman said full operating capacity of 0,000 kilowatts is to be reached in a few days. That is sufficient to supply the residential needs of a community of 250,000 population.

Shippingport, 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, is the nation's only large-scale atomic power plant and the second in the world. The other is in England. It supplies commercial electricity but its main purpose is production of plutonium for military uses.

GHS Opens South Penn Play Friday By Entertaining Hershey Dribblers Here

Southern Pennsylvania Conference basketball games get underway Friday evening and here at Gettysburg, Coach George Forney's Warriors entertain the highly-regarded Hershey Trojans.

Two other league games are scheduled for Friday. Middletown at Hanover, and Waynesboro at Mechanicsburg. Other teams wait two weeks before entering league play.

The Warriors have logged two victories in defeating Delone and Westminster. They have flashed good form from time to time but will have to improve still more if they are to give a good account of themselves in the stiffer competition offered by the South Penn teams.

Earl Little is again the pace-setter in scoring but he still shows effects of a football injury. Bob Furey is greatly improved over his junior varsity play of last year and should get better. Sidney Steinhour has not yet measured up to expectations but is bound to improve. Kenny Keefe remains the speediest of the regulars and has been up to his old tricks of stealing the ball on many occasions. Hardy Nichols, a sophomore, started against Westminster and could nail down a regular job.

Promising Reserves
First line replacements who have shown well are Sidney Weikert, Tommy Crist, Charles Fair, Stan Prosser and Bob Groscholtz.

Hershey trounced Palmyra 69-47 Tuesday after its opening game defeat. Barry Daniels, the 6-9 sharp shooter, bagged 21 points while Jim Price, a promising sophomore, tagged 14. The Trojans have a good rebounder in veteran Lee Moyer. 6-2, while Carl Seavers 5-10, John Hunter 5-6, and Wayne Faust 5-10, provide Coach Frank Kamus with a group of boys who may cause trouble all the way.

The reserve teams will meet in the preliminary at 6:45. Three other scholastic games round out the Friday schedule. Scotland meets Delone (1-2) at McSherrystown. Lower Chancetown tangles with Bermudian Joint (7-1) at East Berlin, while Lew Oxford (1-3) is host to New Windsor.

Tonight Delone plays at Littlestown.

Ten Are Killed

was fatally injured in a twister which struck a rural area near Farmington.

4 In Family Killed
Four of the Murphyboro fatalities occurred in one family. Mrs. Martha Butcher and three of her children were buried from their home and tossed into a nearby field. All were killed.

Also killed in Murphyboro, a town of about 9,350, were Mrs. Julia Marshall, 72; Bobby Marshall, 2; Brenda Joyce Johnson, 12; Negro, and Mrs. Richard Menley, about 60, Negro.

The tornado hit hardest in a low-lying section, inhabited mostly by Negro families, along the Big Muddy River. It toppled power lines which set off a number of fires. At one time, authorities said, an area two blocks long beside the river was in flames.

One Section In Ruins
Residents of Mount Vernon, about 60 miles northeast of Murphyboro, considered themselves fortunate because of the lack of fatalities in that city of 16,500.

The Western Gardens section, on the North Side, was in ruins. Observers reported that as the funnel descended on the area, 15 or 20 prefabricated homes in the $10,000 class simply exploded. Two other sections also were hit hard.

As skies cleared late last night in the storm area, the thunderstorm activity moved into Tennessee. Although heavy rain and moderate winds were reported in some north central areas, the tornado threat appeared to have ended at least temporarily.

Scattered areas of rain or snow were reported in other parts of the country but there were no violent storms. Rain and drizzle sprinkled sections from Lake Superior southward into northern Illinois and southeastward into the mid-Atlantic Coast States.

Ask Permission To Increase Bus Fare

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission had under study a proposal by the Laurel Transportation Co. to raise its bus route two to five cents, effective Jan. 19.

The present fares range between 10 and 45 cents. The 15-cent fare for rides between Old Forge and Rocky Glen would not be changed under the new proposal.

The company also asked permission to raise its 10-trip commutation fares, now ranging from 13 to 35 cents, two to eight cents. Laurel estimated the new fares would produce $3,000 additional revenue annually. It said it needs more revenue to meet higher operating costs.

3 BULLET GRID STARS RECEIVE MORE HONORS

Gettysburg's Frank Capitani, senior from Hershey, has been named to the 33-player 1957 Mid-Bracket All-American team selected by the Williamson Football Rating System of Houston, Texas.

Each season the Williamson Rating System selects a Big All-American team composed of players from major football powers; a Mid-Bracket All-American team selected from players who perform for teams such as Gettysburg, and a Little All-American team from the smaller schools. Center Sheldon Yings was named to the 1955 team.

In releasing the team, Williamson states: "This selection of 33 players is not a 'Little' All-American team. Some of the colleges represented could have held their own against many name powers this season. Many of the players selected on the Mid-Bracket team could have played first-string in major colleges, and several would have made big All-American had they played for a power in the national limelight."

Other area players selected to the 33-man team include quarterback Dan Nolan, Lehigh; halfback Tony Toto, Delaware; and tackle Pete Williams, Lehigh. Teams represented include Dayton, Louisiana Tech, Williams, Montana State, Louisville, San Jose, Bradley, Butler, Drake, Chattanooga, Citadel, Tufts, Connecticut, Bowling Green, Springfield and Tampa.

Gettysburg's John Yohn, center, and Al Kempton tackle, received honorable mention.

Detroit Pistons Lose Their Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Minneapolis Lakers won a game and the Detroit Pistons lost a coach in the National Basketball Assn. yesterday. Both were surprising developments in both cases.

The Lakers, able to win only five of 24 games, whipped the stumbling Philadelphia Warriors 108-102 for No. 6 a few hours after Charley Eckman, who guided the Pistons to two division titles in three years at Fort Wayne before the move to Detroit, resigned under pressure.

Eckman, who turned to coaching after several years as an NBA referee, will continue to draw his salary of $12,500 annually until June 1959. Speculation on his successor with a club that has won nine of 25 starts while representing Detroit for the first time centered around Bob Davies and Jim Pollard, a couple former NBA stars, and Bob Calhoun, coach at Detroit U.

WAYNESBORO IS HOPEFUL WITH RUSS HOPEWELL

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of nine articles dealing with the basketball prospects of Southern Pennsylvania Conference teams for 1957-58).

A team which has the leading junior scorer of the 1956-57 South Penn League returning as a senior has some hopes that it will cut a respectable swath in the coming season.

That's the situation at Waynesboro Area Senior High School where Russell Hopewell, second leading scorer in the league a year ago, returns to lead a varsity squad of six seniors and six juniors.

The 6-1 senior letterman scored 397 points, averaging 18.5 per game last year, and in league scoring ranked behind only Mechanicsburg's Flip Houser, since graduated.

Lack Height
Any jubilation at the presence of Hopewell in the wigwam must be tempered with the realization that the 1957-58 Indians lack height, with only two squad members hitting 6-1.

Coach George Gottshall, in his sophomore season, after a 10-11 debut a year ago, hopes his Tribe will develop enough speed to offset the lack of height.

A diversified scoring punch is also sought, and in winning their first two scholastic games, 59-37 over South Hagerstown and 76-47 over Scotland School, the Indians saw four braves hit double figures.

The other "tall man" in the lineup will be Fritz Carbaugh, also 6-1, who is seen as the possible key to the difference between the average and a good team. A senior letterman, Carbaugh has indicated he may be able to take some of the scoring load off Hopewell to spread defenses.

"Little men" will be counted on for big performance. Two 5-7 lettermen are Seniors Bob Keller and Gene Eakle. Keller is seen as the speed factor and a possible top point man for several games—he averaged nearly eight points a game as a junior, and was the squad's fourth scorer. Eakle was the sixth scorer on last year's club and is seen as a starter by Gottshall who rates his defensive ability tops.

Other Candidates
Rounding out the seniors are 5-9 Tom Caron, who played jayvee ball as a sophomore but who sat out last season to work, and 5-11 Carl Rudy who was a starter at the opening of the season but retired with a bad ankle.

Gottshall is looking for substantial help from the six juniors, all up from last year's jayvee squad. Tallest of the lot is 5-11½ Tuck Shade, little brother of Ernie Shade who starred as a junior last season. Ernie, 6-3, developed into a top-flight scorer and rebounder but is lost this year due to an 18th birthday.

Other juniors are Mike Crist, Phil Haugh, and Ken Keller, all 5-9; Bill Weagley, 5-8, and Allen Glass, 5-7. Remaining games on the indian schedule follows:
Dec. 20, at Mechanicsburg.
Jan. 3, Hanover; 7, at Gettysburg; 10, Chambersburg; 14, at Shippensburg; 17, Hershey; 21, at Middletown; 24, at South Hagerstown, and 28, Carlisle.

Feb. 4, Mechanicsburg; 7, at Hanover; 11, Gettysburg; 14, at Chambersburg; 18, Shippensburg; 21, at Hershey; 25, Middletown, and 28, Scotland.

March 4, at Carlisle.

BEATEN AND ROBBED
HARRISBURG (AP)—The elderly proprietor of a dry goods store here was beaten and robbed of $500 today while many of the neighborhood's residents and the police were at a nearby house fire.

Bermudian Junior High Cagers Bow

The Bermudian Joint Junior High cagers, coached by Glenn Kemper, dropped a pair of games at Big Springs Wednesday. The varsity bowed 29-16 and the jayvees 19-11.

Other games remaining on the schedule are as follows: January 6, Biglerville, away; 10, Big Springs, home; 14, New Oxford, away; 16, Fairfield, away; 28, Boiling Springs, away; February 7, New Oxford, tentative; 11, Boiling Springs, home; 17, Fairfield, home; 21, Biglerville, home.

AA home games are played at York Springs.

BUBBLERS HOST CAGE TOURNEY

The Christmas holiday basketball tournament to be held at Boiling Springs High School will get underway Friday evening, December 27. In the first game starting at 7 o'clock the Boiling Springs Bubblers will meet the Mechanicsburg Wildcats.

In the second game the Newport High School team will meet the Big Springs High School team. On Saturday evening, December 28, the two losers in Friday's game will meet in the consolation game and the two winners of Friday's games clash immediately following the consolation game.

This should be a good tournament. Newport is annually one of the powers in the Perry-Juniata League and have been in PIAA playoffs for years. Mechanicsburg, of the South Penn League, always produces a fine team that makes a good showing in the strong South Penn League. Big Spring has come up very fast in the past few years and last year won the Shaughnessy playoff championship of the Adams County League. The host school, Boiling Springs, has been the power of the Adams County League for years and this year is a member of the Lower Susquehanna Conference.

Dave DeTar Named Angling Champion

M. D. DeTar, president of Aero Oil Co. and a resident of New Oxford, has been crowned 1957 Angling Champion in the annual contest staged by the Miami Beach Rod and Reel Club. The membership of this famous organization includes many of the nation's outstanding salt and fresh water sport fishermen, and rivalry in the yearly competition for the various division championships is keen. Still more keen is the struggle for the top rating as over-all Angling Champion.

At the annual "Award Night" ceremonies staged in the club's headquarters on Hibiscus Island, Biscayne Bay, Florida, the new champion was presented with a giant four-foot high trophy emblematic of his victory.

Rogers Hornsby Is Signed By Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, rated baseball's greatest right-handed batter of all time, today was signed by the Chicago Cubs as a coach and chief batting instructor.

Hornsby, who reigned seven years as National League batting champion and had a lifetime average of .358, designed as a youth program director for Mayor Richard Daley to accept the Cub job.

As a player-manager, Hornsby led the St. Louis Cardinals to a world championship in 1926. He also managed the Boston Braves, the Cubs, the St. Louis Browns and the Cincinnati Reds.

FROSH GAME CANCELLED
Only Gettysburg College's varsity cagers will oppose Albion tonight at Reading. The game between the freshmen squads was recently cancelled.

Will Leave Frisco To See Pro Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—When the San Francisco 49ers meet the Detroit Lions Sunday in their Western Division NFL title playoff, thousands of fans will hit the highways or airways for distant places to see the sellout game on television.

The game will be blacked-out locally and all tickets to the game in 60,000-seat Kezar Stadium were gobbled up Monday.

Special bus caravans are being set up to Reno and Lake Tahoe. Hotels in Reno have agreed to a weekend reduction in double room rates to entice the partisans.

ILLINOIS BEATS RICE 85-82 IN FINAL SURGE

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Is this the season Illinois crashes back into the big time of college basketball? Or is that just another almost-but-not-quite bunch of Illinois Coach Harry Combes has going for him?

Combes, in his 10 years at Illinois, has only twice lost more than five games in one season—both 14-8 years, in 1950 and 1952.

Still, the Illini have made the nation's top 10 in the final Associated Press rankings only once since their runnerup finish in 1952 while Indiana and Iowa dominated Big Ten Conference play.

Owls Lose Again
Now the as yet unranked Illini are 5-0, pulling away in the last 4 minutes last night for an 85-82 victory over well-regarded Rice of the Southwest Conference. The Owls (3-2) are rated 14th nationally.

It was the second consecutive defeat for the Owls, who were unbeaten before they left home. Only two other ranked clubs were in action last night. Maryland (No. 6) made it 5-0 with an 88-58 brezer over Navy, but Wichita tumbled UCLA (No. 13) from the unbeaten 33-63 with a second half fast break.

Dartmouth Unbeaten
Dartmouth stayed unbeaten (7-0) with a comeback 9-6 victory over Holy Cross. Louisville took a 73-65 decision over Marquette.

Missouri took an 82-61 victory over Texas. Vanderbilt routed the Citadel 90-61. Oklahoma City whipped Wyoming 75-59 after trailing by three at the half.

Undefeated Niagara (4-0) beat Syracuse 78-61, as Virginia defeated Washington & Lee 67-63.

Brown disposed of a five-point Amherst lead in the last 4 minutes for a 73-71 upset. Connecticut rapped Colgate 82-61, the host Quantic Marines defeated Belmont Abbey 71-53, and Providence beat St. Michael's (Vt) 68-53 and will meet in the championship game of the Quantic Christmas tournament tonight.

MULLOY WILL FIGHT TO HOLD TEAM BERTH

By WILL GRIMSLEY
MELBOURNE (AP)—Gardner Mulloy is not giving up his place on the United States Davis Cup team without a battle.

Faced with the possible loss of his doubles berth in the challenge round to younger Barry MacKay, the 44-year-old Miami veteran has intensified his practice and sounded a warning that he will be hard to overlook when the time for a decision comes.

"Naturally, I will be disappointed if I do not get to play," Mulloy said today. "But I won't be bitter. Billy Talbert must consider the age factor and I will abide by anything he says. But I am in good shape."

Mind Made Up
Talbert, the U. S. captain, said he already has made up his mind about the U. S. doubles combination but he refused to make the decision known for fear of killing off the players' enthusiasm.

It is known, however, that Talbert leans heavily toward the team of Vic Seixas and MacKay. MacKay, although only 22 and never in a Cup match, has the big service and volley which figures to cause trouble for Australians Mal Anderson and Mervyn Rose in the challenge round beginning a week from today.

Was Disappointment
Mulloy was a disappointment in the interzone match with Belgium when he and Seixas lost in doubles to Jackie Brichant and Philippe Washer. But he figures there were contributing factors.

For days in advance, he had been kept on edge by the possibility he would be thrown into the singles because of the illness of Herbie Flam. Also, he and Seixas had little chance to practice doubles because of the emphasis put on Mulloy for the singles.

Now he feels he's ready. Mulloy is co-holder of the Wimbledon doubles championship with Budge Patty and is rated one of the best doubles players in the world. He and Talbert won five national championships in the United States a few years back and were ranked No. 1 in the country as a tandem for 10 years.

POMPEY WINS BY DECISION

CHICAGO (AP)—Yolande Pompey of Trinidad and Clarence Hinnant of Miami, who fought a bruising 10-round light heavyweight draw at the Chicago Stadium last night, is due for a good bout in the near future.

It depends on the New York bout next month between Yvonne Durrelle and Tony Anthony. Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said today that if Durrelle, a top-ranked contender for Archie Moore's light heavy crown, beats Anthony he may be matched with Pompey in Montreal in February or March.

If Anthony defeats Durrelle, the IBC contemplates an Anthony-Hinnant bout in Miami, also in February or March.

In last night's bout, Referee Bernie Weissman voted for Pompey 67-66. Judge Lou Capparelli saw Hinnant winning 66-65 and Judge Harold Marovitz called it a 47-47 draw. The AP card had Pompey a 47-45 winner.

Although there were no knockdowns, each fighter jolted the other on numerous occasions with vicious sallies. Pompey weighed 166½ to 171½ for Hinnant.

GHS Opens South Penn Play Friday By Entertaining Hershey Dribblers Here

Southern Pennsylvania Conference basketball games get underway Friday evening and here at Gettysburg, Coach George Forney's Warriors entertain the highly-regarded Hershey Trojans.

Two other league games are scheduled for Friday, Middletown at Hanover, and Waynesboro at Mechanicsburg. Other teams wait two weeks before entering league play.

The Warriors have logged two victories in defeating Delone and Westminster. They have flashed good form from time to time but will have to improve still more if they are to give a good account of themselves in the stiff competition offered by the South Penn teams.

Earl Little is again the pace-setter in scoring but he still shows effects of a football injury. Bob Furey is greatly improved over his junior varsity play of last year and should get better. Sidney Steinhour has not yet measured up to expectations but is bound to improve.

Kenny Keefe remains the speediest of the regulars and has been up to his old tricks of stealing the ball on many occasions. Hardy Nichols, a sophomore, started against Westminster and could nail down a regular job.

Promising Reserves
First line replacements who have shown well are Sidney Weikert, Tommy Crist, Charles Fair, Stan Prosser and Bob Groscholtz.

Hershey trounced Palmyra 69-47 Tuesday after its opening game defeat. Barry Daniels, the 5-9 sharpshooter, bagged 21 points while Jim Price, a promising sophomore, tagged 14. The Trojans have a good rebounder in veteran Lee Moyer, 6-2, while Carl Seavers 5-10, John Hummer 5-6, and Wayne Faust 5-10, provide Coach Frank Kamus with a group of boys who may cause trouble all the way.

The reserve teams will meet in the preliminary at 6:45.

Three other scholastic games round out the Friday schedule. Scotland meets Delone (1-2) at McSherrystown. Lower Chancetown tangles with Bermdian Joint (7-1) at East Berlin, while 7-10 Oxford (1-3) is host to New Windsor.

Tonight Delone plays at Littlestown.

was fatally injured in a twister which struck a rural area near Farmington.

4 In Family Killed
Four of the Murphysboro fatalities occurred in one family. Mrs. Martha Butcher and three of her children were hurled from their home and tossed into a nearby field. All were killed.

Also killed in Murphysboro, a town of about 9,250, were Mrs. Julia Marshall, 72; Bobby Marshall, 2; Brenda Joyce Johnson, 12; Negro, and Mrs. Richard Menley, about 60, Negro.

The tornado hit hardest in a low-lying section, inhabited mostly by Negro families, along the Big Muddy River. It toppled power lines which set off a number of fires. At one time, authorities said, an area two blocks long beside the river was in flames.

One Section In Ruins
Residents of Mount Vernon, about 60 miles northeast of Murphysboro, considered themselves fortunate because of the lack of fatalities in that city of 16,500.

The Western Gargade section, on the North Side, was in ruins. Observers reported that as the funnel descended on the area, 15 or 20 prefabricated homes in the $10,000 class simply exploded. Two other sections also were hit hard.

As skies cleared late last night in the storm area, the thunderstorm activity moved into Tennessee. Although heavy rain and moderate winds were reported in some north central areas, the tornado threat appeared to have ended at least temporarily.

Scattered areas of rain or snow were reported in other parts of the country but there were no violent storms. Rain and drizzle sprinkled sections from Lake Superior southward into northern Illinois and southeastward into the mid-Atlantic Coast States.

Ask Permission To Increase Bus Fare
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission had under study a proposal by the Laurel Utility Commission to raise its bus fares on the Scranton to Pittston Transportation Co. to raise its bus route two to five cents, effective Jan. 19.

The present fares range between 10 and 45 cents. The 15-cent fare for rides between Old Forge and Rocky Glen would not be changed under the new proposal. The company also asked permission to raise its 10-trip commutation fares, now ranging from 13 to 35 cents, two to eight cents. Laurel estimated the new fares would produce $3,000 additional revenue annually. It said it needs more revenue to meet higher operating costs.

Davies Would Not Accept Detroit Job

Bob Davies, former Gettysburg College basketball coach and a former star player with Rochester in the National Basketball Association, said today he would not accept the head coaching position of the Detroit Pistons.

Davies was one of a number of possibilities mentioned to succeed Charley Eckman who has been relieved of his duties at Detroit. Davies said he considers it quite an honor to be considered but that he is very happy with his present position with the Converse Rubber Co. and under no circumstances will he accept the job if offered.

3 BULLET GRID STARS RECEIVE MORE HONORS

Gettysburg's Frank Capitani, senior from Hershey, has been named to the 33-player 1957 Mid-Bracket All-American team selected by the Williamson Football Rating System of Houston, Texas.

Each season the Williamson Rating System selects a Big All-American team composed of players from major football powers; a Mid-Bracket All-American team selected from players who perform for teams such as Gettysburg, and a Little All-American team from the smaller schools. Center Sheldon Yingst was named to the 1956 team.

In releasing the team, Williamson states: "This selection of 33 players is not a 'Little' All-American team. Some of the colleges represented could have held their own against many name powers this season. Many of the players selected on the Mid-Bracket team could have played first-string in major colleges, and several would have made big All-American had they played for a power in the national limelight."

Other area players selected to the 33-man team include quarterback Dan Nolan, Lehigh; halfback Tony Toto, Delaware; and tackle Pete Williams, Lehigh.

Teams represented include Dayton, Louisiana Tech, Williams, Montana State, Louisville, San Jose, Bradley, Butler, Drake, Chattanooga, Citadel, Tuffs, Connecticut, Bowling Green, Springfield and Tampa.

Gettysburg's John Yohn, center, and Al Kempton tackle, received honorable mention.

Detroit Pistons Lose Their Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Minneapolis Lakers won a game and the Detroit Pistons lost a coach in the National Basketball Assn. yesterday. Both were surprising developments in both cases.

The Lakers, able to win only five of 24 games, whipped the stumbling Philadelphia Warriors 108-102 for No. 6 a few hours after Charley Eckman, who guided the Pistons to two division titles in three years at Fort Wayne before the move to Detroit, resigned under pressure.

Eckman, who turned to coaching after several years as an NBA referee, will continue to draw his salary of $12,500 annually until June 1959. Speculation on his successor with a club that has won nine of 25 starts while representing Detroit for the first time centered around Bob Davies and Jim Pollard, a couple former NBA stars, and Bob Calihan, coach at Detroit U.

WAYNESBORO IS HOPEFUL WITH RUSS HOPEWELL

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of nine articles dealing with the basketball prospects of Southern Pennsylvania Conference teams for 1957-58).

A team which has the leading junior scorer of the 1956-57 South Penn League returning as a senior has some hopes that it will cut a respectable swath in the coming season.

That's the situation at Waynesboro Area Senior High School where Russell Hopewell, second leading scorer in the league a year ago, returns to lead a varsity squad of six seniors and six juniors.

The 6-1 senior letterman scored 397 points, averaging 18.5 per game last year, and in league scoring ranked behind only Mechanicsburg's Flip Houser, since graduated.

Lack Height
Any jubilation at the presence of Hopewell in the wigwam must be tempered with the realization that the 1957-58 Indians lack height, with only two squad members hitting 6-1.

Coach George Gottshall, in his sophomore season, after a 10-11 debut a year ago, hopes his Tribe will develop enough speed to offset the lack of height.

A diversified scoring punch is also sought, and in winning their first two scholastic games, 59-37 over South Hagerstown and 76-47 over Scotland School, the Indians saw four braves hit double figures.

The other "tall man" in the lineup will be Fritz Carbaugh, also 6-1, who is seen as the possible key to the difference between the average and a good team. A senior letterman, Carbaugh has indicated he may be able to take some of the scoring load off Hopewell to spread defenses.

"Little men" will be counted on for big performance. Two 5-7 lettermen are Seniors Bob Keller and Gene Eakle. Keller is seen as the speed factor and a possible top point man for several games—he averaged nearly eight points a game as a junior, and was the squad's fourth scorer. Eakle was the sixth scorer on last year's club and is seen as a starter by Gottshall who rates his defensive ability tops.

Other Candidates
Rounding out the seniors are 5-9 Tom Caron, who played javay ball as a sophomore but who sat out last season to work, and 5-11 Carl Rudy who was a starter at the opening of the season but retired with a bad ankle.

Gottshall is looking for substantial help from the six juniors, all up from last year's javay squad. Tallest of the lot is 5-11 1/2 Tuck Shade, little brother of Ernie Shade who starred as a junior last season. Ernie, 6-3, developed into a top-flight scorer and rebounder but is lost this year due to an 18th birthday.

Other juniors are Mike Crist, Phil Haugh, and Ken Keller, all 5-9; Bill Weagley, 5-8, and Allen Glass, 5-7. Remaining games on the Indian schedule follows:

Dec. 20, at Mechanicsburg.
Jan. 3, Hanover; 7, at Gettysburg; 10, Chambersburg; 14, at Shippensburg; 17, Hershey; 21, at Middletown; 24, at South Hagerstown, and 28, Carlisle.

Feb. 4, Mechanicsburg; 7, at Hanover; 11, Gettysburg; 14, at Chambersburg; 18, Shippensburg; 21, at Hershey; 25, Middletown, and 28, Scotland.

March 4, at Carlisle.

FRESH GAME CANCELLED
Only Gettysburg College's varsity cagers will oppose Albright tonight at Reading. The game between the freshmen squads was recently cancelled.

Bermudian Junior High Cagers Bow

The Bermudian Joint Junior High cagers, coached by Glenn Kemper, dropped a pair of games at Big Springs Wednesday. The varsity bowed 20-16 and the jayvees 12-11.

Other games remaining on the schedule are as follows: January 6, Biglerville, away; 10, Big Springs, home; 14, New Oxford, away; 16, Fairfield, away; 28, Boiling Springs, away; February 7, New Oxford, tentative; 11, Boiling Springs, home; 17, Fairfield, home; 21, Biglerville, home.

AA home games are played at York Springs.

BUBBLERS HOST CAGE TOURNEY

The Christmas holiday basketball tournament to be held at Boiling Springs High School will get underway Friday evening, December 27. In the first game starting at 7 o'clock the Boiling Springs Bubblers will meet the Mechanicsburg Wildcats.

In the second game the Newport High School team will meet the Big Springs High School team. On Saturday evening, December 28, the two losers in Friday's game will meet in the consolation game and the two winners of Friday's games clash immediately following the consolation game.

This should be a good tournament. Newport is annually one of the powers in the Perry-Juniata League and have been in PIAA playoffs for years. Mechanicsburg, of the South Penn League, always produces a fine team that makes a good showing in the strong South Penn League. Big Spring has come up very fast in the past few years and last year won the Shaugnessy playoff championship of the Adams County League. The host school, Boiling Springs, has been the power of the Adams County League for years and this year is a member of the Lower Susquehanna Conference.

Still more keen is the struggle for the top rating as over-all Angling Champion.

Rogers Hornsby Is Signed By Chicago
CHICAGO (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, rated baseball's greatest right-handed batter of all time, today was signed by the Chicago Cubs as a coach and chief batting instructor.

As a player-manager, Hornsby led the St. Louis Cardinals to a world championship in 1926. He also managed the Boston Braves, the Cubs, the St. Louis Browns and the Cincinnati Reds.

ILLINOIS BEATS RICE 85-82 IN FINAL SURGE
By ED WILKES
The Associated Press
Is this the season Illinois crashes back into the big time of college basketball? Or is that just another almost-but-not-quite bunch of Illinois Coach Harry Combes has going for him?

Combes, in his 10 years at Illinois, has only twice lost more than five games in one season—both 14-8 years, in 1950 and 1955.

Still, the Illini have made the nation's top 10 in the final Associated Press rankings only once since their runnerup finish in 1952 while Indiana and Iowa dominated Big Ten Conference play.

Owls Lose Again
Now the as-yet unranked Illini are 5-0, pulling away in the last 4 minutes last night for an 85-82 victory over well-regarded Rice of the Southwest Conference. The Owls (3-2) are rated 14th nationally.

It was the second consecutive defeat for the Owls, who were unbeaten before they left home.

Only two other ranked clubs were in action last night. Maryland (No. 6) made it 5-0 with an 85-58 breezer over Navy, but Wichita tumbled UCLA (No. 13) from the unbeaten 33-68 with a second half fast break.

LIONS AND 49ERS ALL EVEN FOR CRUCIAL GAME

By JACK STEVENSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"You can throw out the results of those first two games. They don't mean anything now."

Detroit Lions Coach George Wilson referred to games this season with the San Francisco 49ers.

The rubber game is Sunday at Kezar Stadium with the championship of the National Football League's Western Conference at stake.

In their first meeting here, the 49ers came from behind on a 41-yard pass from quarterback Y.A. Tittle to flanker R. C. Owens for a touchdown with 11 seconds left. They won 35-31.

Things Change Fast
In Detroit, the Lions squared things by overpowering San Francisco 31-10.

"Everything changes fast in this business," Wilson said. "San Francisco had a good team. But our boys want this one. They mean business and can smell money."

Sunday's winner will meet Cleveland for the NFL championship with each player in that one due to receive $3,000 to $4,000. For the Detroit-San Francisco battle, the players get game pay, or about a twelfth of their contract salary.

Dodgers May Open Next Season In Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All indications point to the Los Angeles Dodgers opening their 1958 National League baseball season in the 100,000-seat Rose Bowl in nearby Pasadena.

That's what Dodger President Walter O'Malley told reporters last night before he flew back to New York for the Christmas holidays.

O'Malley huddled with Pasadena City Manager Don McMillan and then announced: "The people of Pasadena have invited us and I feel very sure we can arrive at an intelligent agreement to play in the Rose Bowl. So far I have met no roadblocks in my negotiations with Mr. McMillan."

MULLOY WILL FIGHT TO HOLD TEAM BERTH

By WILL GRIMSLEY
MELBOURNE (AP)—Gardner Mulloy is not giving up his place on the United States Davis Cup team without a battle.

Faced with the possible loss of his doubles berth in the challenge round to younger Barry MacKay, the 44-year-old Miami veteran has intensified his practice and sounded a warning that he will be hard to overlook when the time for a decision comes.

"Naturally, I will be disappointed if I do not get to play," Mulloy said today. "But I won't be bitter. Billy Talbert must consider the age factor and I will abide by anything he says. But I am in good shape."

Mind Made Up
Talbert, the U. S. captain, said he already has made up his mind about the U. S. doubles combination but he refused to make the decision known for fear of killing off the players' enthusiasm.

It is known, however, that Talbert leans heavily toward the team of Vic Seixas and MacKay. MacKay, although only 32 and never in a Cup match, has the big service and volley which figures to cause trouble for Australian Mal Anderson and Mervyn Rose in the challenge round beginning a week from today.

Was Disappointment
Mulloy was a disappointment in the interzone match with Belgium when he and Seixas lost in doubles to Jackie Brichant and Philippe Washer. But he figures there were contributing factors.

For days in advance, he had been kept on edge by the possibility he would be thrown into the singles because of the illness of Herbie Flam. Also, he and Seixas had little chance to practice doubles because of the emphasis put on Mulloy for the singles.

Now he feels he's ready. Mulloy is co-holder of the Wimbledon doubles championship with Budge Patty and is rated one of the best doubles players in the world. He and Talbert won five national championships in the United States a few years back and were ranked No. 1 in the country as a tandem for 10 years.

POMPEY WINS BY DECISION
CHICAGO (AP)—Yolande Pompey of Trinidad or Clarence Hinnant of Miami, who fought a bruising 10-round light heavyweight draw at the Chicago Stadium last night, is due for a good bout in the near future.

It depends on the New York bout next month between Yvonne Durelle and Tony Anthony.

PARISH COUNCIL HOLDS ANNUAL XMAS PARTY

Explorers are among the great of this earth. To them we are deeply in debt. Those early explorers who went across America in covered wagons, and those who dug deep into mines for useful substances, and those scientists who worked day and night against unkind hardships and discouragements — to them we owe a debt that can never be paid.

What a benefactor to the entire world we have in Thomas A. Edison and such men as Pasteur, Dr. Alexis Carrel, Gen. Lindbergh, Henry Ford, and a host of others who willingly took chances and hardships that all the world might benefit. Admiral Peary, the final discoverer of the North Pole, did an inspiring thing. The late Comdr. Fitzhugh Green wrote an inspiring book on Peary's life which he termed "The Man Who Refused To Fail."

Every one of us at times likes to explore. I like to explore books that have thoughts in them from which I can quote, and invite others to enjoy. I like to explore in second-hand book shops. I have thereby gained many a literary treasure. I like to explore the minds of interesting people.

It is interesting and profitable to explore a city, noting its many attractions and landmarks. I once came upon a small plot of land in the South that had a metal fence about it, and the plot was "Dedicated to God!" I do not recall that it had any other markings or identification.

There are many interesting things to explore in cities like New Orleans, Charleston, South Carolina, San Francisco, and of course New York City. It would be a good thing if each one of us would try to explore oneself!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Retiring." Protected, 1957, by The George Matthews Adams Service.

Just Folks

THE HOMESICK BRIDES
Let's see, June brides have married been
Just six short months, but lo!
Already they are homesick and
Back home again they go.

Oh, lonesome groom! Oh, woeful groom!
There's little joy in life;
But it's the common fate of man
To lose a homesick wife.

Cheer up! Cheer up! The worst is yet
To come to you I fear.
It won't be long ere she'll return
And bring her people here.

TRUCKERS ASK HEAVY DAMAGES

PHILADELPHIA, P.—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. is asking more than one million dollars damages in the wake of a court ruling that 24 railroads and a public relations firm, campaigned to put it out of business.

The association asked U. S. District Court Judge Thomas J. Clary yesterday to award it a total of $1,370,098 from a group of Eastern railroads and the public relations firm of Carl Byrum & Associates, Inc., of New York City.

Last October Judge Clary ruled in favor of the truckers' 350-million-dollar trouble damage suit against the railroads and the public relations firm.

But the judge ruled that damages actually awarded would be based on money lost by the truckers "because of the railroads' campaign of destruction of good will."

The truckers said that most of the money went to their own public relations firm — Allied Public Relations, Inc., of New York City — to counteract the activities of the railroads.

Noel, of Patton, Cambria County, had been living in this area for some time, working mainly at odd jobs.

All but $150 of the $7,524 loot was recovered following Batcheler's arrest, less than 24 hours after the robbery.

Batcheler blamed heavy drinking and debts for prompting him to attempt the robbery.

In other action in Federal court yesterday, Louis J. Gilbert of McKeesport was put on five years' probation for passing worthless checks.

When Wauzaman last touched the control switch at 12:39 a.m., only 5,000 kilowatts of electricity pulsed into Duquesne Light's system.

During the day this was stepped up to 20,000 and a company spokesman said full operating capacity of 60,000 kilowatts is to be reached in a few days. That is sufficient to supply the residential needs of a community of 250,000 population.

St. Joseph, 35 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, is the nation's only large-scale atomic power plant, and the second in the world. The other is in England. It supplies commercial electricity but its main purpose is production of plutonium for military uses.

Jack Wauzaman 37, of nearby Hoozstown, Pa., was the "man of the hour" when the historic 110-million-dollar plant produced its first electricity for homes, shops and factories from splitting uranium atoms.

Wauzaman closed the switch on an intricate control panel that sent power flowing from the station's turbine generator into Duquesne Light Co.'s regular system yesterday.

Didn't Analyze Feelings
"It was my job," said Wauzaman, matter-of-factly when asked his reaction. "I didn't analyze my feelings at the time. Maybe I was just too busy out come to think of what must have been a pretty significant thing."

"You know, there's no difference between the electricity here and any other," he added. "And the generator controls are much the same as in a regular coal plant."

Called a switchboard operator, Wauzaman mans the plant's electrical control board on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift. His chief job is to make sure the power flows into the company's lines properly, a highly technical operation.

SAY NO MONEY BUDGETED FOR WEST EUROPE ROCKET ARMS

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON, Pa. — Officials said today no money for arming West Europe, with intermediate range rockets is budgeted in the $1,940,000 foreign aid bill being readied for Congress.

They said several hundred million dollars may have to be added to the request to pay for the 1,500-mile-range Jupiter and Thor missiles—if the European nations decide they want them.

The 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance summit conference at Paris yesterday accepted unanimously the principle that NATO as a whole should have the weapons. Britain and Turkey agreed to accept them. Only the Netherlands among the Continental European allies said yes immediately. However, the United States is not expected to have intermediate range missiles ready to deliver overseas until late next year.

Some Confusion
Meanwhile, diplomats dealing with the foreign aid program expressed some confusion over President Eisenhower's reference to the Export-Import Bank in his opening speech at the NATO meeting Monday.

Eisenhower, saying the United States was stepping up its economic aid, listed some proposals in the works. Among other things, he said: "We will ask the Congress to increase the lending authority of the Export-Import Bank by an additional two billion dollars."

The diplomats here said the puzzling thing about this Eisenhower reference was its inclusion with some foreign aid proposals, such as a request for a $25-million-dollar development loan fund.

They said the Export-Import Bank generally is considered outside the foreign aid program. And they said the two billion dollars being sought is a routine recapitalization which just happens to fall due at this time.

The bank, established 24 years ago, provides long-term loans to foreign buyers so they can purchase American goods.

Eisenhower's new foreign aid program, as developed so far, seeks more funds for economic and technical aid than for military aid to friendly nations. This marked the first time since 1960 that less money was contemplated for military assistance than for economic-technical aid.

JURY PONDERS FATE OF HOFFA AND TWO OTHERS

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court jury has the fate of James R. Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters Union, and two others charged with conspiring here to illegally tap telephones in the Detroit Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

If convicted, all face possible sentences of a year in prison and fines of up to $10,000 each.

Federal Judge Frederick Vane-Pelt Bryan locked up the seven men and five women at 12:45 a.m. after it failed to reach a verdict in more than five hours of deliberation yesterday.

The jurors had asked to hear some of the testimony read again. The trial began Nov. 22.

The government contends Hoffa and Brennan used wiretaps to eavesdrop on phone talks by union officials and employees to prevent congressional and grand jury investigations from getting information that might weaken Hoffa's control over the union and its funds.

The government also charges Hoffa took $3,429 in union funds to pay for the alleged wiretaps. At the time, Hoffa was Teamsters leader and a $21,000-a-year vice president of the union.

Spindel was retained by Hoffa and Brennan to do the job, according to the government.

Turnpike Receipts Are Up 9 Per Cent

HARRISBURG (AP)—Revenue from Pennsylvania Turnpike Operations was up 9 per cent in November over a year ago and up 14 per cent over the fiscal year compared to the same period in 1956.

Franklin V. Sommers, director of operation for the Turnpike Commission, reported today.

Revenue last November was $2,587,224, Sommers said, compared to $2,367,851 for November 1956.

From May 31, start of the fiscal year, through Nov. 30, Sommers added, receipts totaled $16,846,321 compared to $17,191,396 for the same period of 1956. Operating expenses also rose, however—from $1,720,331 in November 1956 to $1,777,758 last November.

Sommers said audited traffic figures for October showed a total of 2,119,812 vehicles using the turnpike facilities. In October 1956 1,916,998 vehicles used the facilities.

SOLONS PROMISE BATTLE AGAINST BENSON ORDERS

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Dairy state senators today promised an all-out battle against the decision of Secretary of Agriculture Benson to lower price supports on milk and other dairy products next April 1.

The Benson announcement yesterday also brought protests from some House members. Two farm groups expressed criticism.

Benson told a news conference dairy supports will be cut to the legal minimum of 75 per cent of parity. These supports now are at 86 per cent of parity for milk, and 80 per cent for butterfat. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices as fair in terms of farmers' expenses.

Supports Are Costly

The secretary said supports have been so high that dairy surpluses recently have cost taxpayers 375 million dollars annually. And he bid for consumer backing for the reduction by saying the move would cut retail butter prices by about 2½ cents a pound, and reduce the cost of milk by about half a cent a quart.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), usually an administration supporter, bluntly told Benson he would ask the Senate Agriculture Committee to veto the cutback.

Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis.) promised a "finish fight" against what he called a "shocking injustice." He said he would ask Congress to set the support level at 90 per cent of parity.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a member of the Agriculture Committee, said that if Benson thinks the new order "will work he is an economic illiterate." Referring to the nearness of Christmas, Humphrey added: "Mr. Benson has taken the place of Scrooge."

The National Milk Producers Federation estimated Benson's action would reduce dairy farmers' income 280 million dollars a year.

MARKET IS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK (U-P)—The stock market drifted irregularly to the downward in quiet early trading today.

Key stocks were off from fractions around a point. There was no assessment of fractional gainers and no leading issues.

Stocks, metals, rails, oils, building materials, electrical manufacturers and aircrafts were irregular and several pivotal stocks were unchanged.

Chemicals, rubbers and nonferrous metals were mostly lower. There were small losses among utilities.

Gardner, Mass., (pop. 20,000) is the largest chair and baby carriage manufacturing center in the world.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was originally named Wyoming.

SAY NO MONEY BUDGETED FOR WEST EUROPE ROCKET ARMS

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON — Officials said today no money for arming West Europe with intermediate range rockets is budgeted in the $3,940,000,000 foreign aid bill being readied for Congress.

They said several hundred million dollars may have to be added to the request to pay for the 1,500-mile-range Jupiter and Thor missiles—if the European nations decide they want them.

The 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance summit conference at Paris yesterday accepted unanimously the principle that NATO as a whole should have the weapons. Britain and Turkey agreed to accept them. Only the Netherlands among the Continental European allies said yes immediately. However, the United States is not expected to have intermediate range missiles ready to deliver overseas until late next year.

Some Confusion
Meanwhile, diplomats dealing with the foreign aid program expressed some confusion over President Eisenhower's reference to the Export-Import Bank in his opening speech at the NATO meeting Monday.

Eisenhower, saying the United States was stepping up its economic aid, listed some proposals in the works. Among other things, he said: "We will ask the Congress to increase the lending authority of the Export-Import Bank by an additional two billion dollars."

The diplomats here said the puzzling thing about this Eisenhower reference was its inclusion with some foreign aid proposals, such as a request for a $25-million-dollar development loan fund.

They said the Export-Import Bank generally is considered outside the foreign aid program. And they said the two billion dollars being sought is a routine recapitalization which just happens to fall due at this time.

The bank, established 24 years ago, provides long-term loans to foreign buyers so they can purchase American goods.

Eisenhower's new foreign aid program, as developed so far, seeks more funds for economic and technical aid than for military aid to friendly nations. This marked the first time since 1950 that less money was contemplated for military assistance than for economic-technical aid.

JURY PONDER'S FATE OF HOFFA AND TWO OTHERS

NEW YORK — A federal court jury has the case of James R. Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters Union, and two others charged with conspiring here to illegally tap telephones in the Detroit Teamsters Building.

On trial with Hoffa are Owen B. Brennan, president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

If convicted, all face possible sentences of a year in prison and fines of up to $10,000 each.

Federal Judge Frederick Van Fleet locked up the jury of seven men and five women at 12:45 a.m. after it failed to reach a verdict in more than five hours' deliberation yesterday.

The jurors had asked to hear some of the testimony read again.

The trial began Nov. 22.

The government contends Hoffa and Brennan used wiretaps to eavesdrop on phone talks by union officials and employees to prevent congressional and grand jury investigations from getting information that might weaken Hoffa's control over the union and its funds.

The government also charges Hoffa took $3,429 in union funds to pay for the alleged wiretaps. At the time, Hoffa was Midwest Teamsters leader and a $21,000-a-year vice president of the union.

Spindel was retained by Hoffa and Brennan to do the job, according to the government.

Turnpike Receipts Are Up 9 Per Cent

HARRISBURG — Revenue from Pennsylvania Turnpike Operations was up 9 per cent in November over a year ago and up 14 per cent over the fiscal year compared to the same period in 1956. Franklin V. Sommers, director of operation for the Turnpike Commission, reported today.

Revenue last November was $2,387,224, Sommers said, compared to $2,367,851 for November 1956.

From May 31, start of the fiscal year, through Nov. 30, Sommers added, receipts totaled $19,644,521 compared to $17,191,393 for the same period of 1956. Operating expenses also rose, however — from $1,730,331 in November 1956 to $1,777,758 last November.

Sommers said audited traffic figures for October showed a total of 2,110,813 vehicles used the turnpike facilities. In October 1956, 1,916,998 vehicles used the facilities.

Most Of Fatal Christmas Accidents From 5 To 7 P.M.

If you retain a childish fear of the dark it may save your life, the National Safety Council said today — providing you're fearful enough to be extra careful when driving at dusk or in darkness.

The council, in its annual Christmas safety campaign, says that about 75 per cent of the fatal yuletide traffic accidents occur during the dark hours of 5 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Darkness reduces vision and distorts perspective, the council said. In addition, traffic is heavier in the early twilight when workers are going home. Bad weather, haste, and holiday drinking also present extra holiday hazards to pedestrians and drivers.

May Be Safe Xmas

"If drivers continue to 'Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents' by being extra careful when driving at night, America may have one of its safest and happiest Christmases," the council said.

"During the first three-quarters of this year traffic deaths dropped 3 per cent from the same period for the previous year. If drivers can maintain this rate of improvement, more than 1,000 lives can be saved in the highway this year.

To help reduce night driving accidents, the council offers the following suggestions:

1. Slow down. Don't regulate your speed by posted limits alone. Speed must be governed by conditions, and darkness is a condition that calls for caution.

2. Be alert. Keep a constant watch for pedestrians and for vehicles with dim lights or no lights.

Stop Off Highway

3. Don't stop on the traveled portion of a roadway. If you must stop, pull off the road, leaving parking and dome lights on. Carry flares for emergency use.

4. Have your car checked frequently. In darkness, immediate response of the vehicle is a must. Double check all lights.

5. Use headlights properly. Use upper beam only on rural highways when no approaching car is within 1,000 feet. Use lower beam when oncoming cars approach, when overtaking another car, and when driving in cities and residential areas.

6. Dim your lights, even though an oncoming driver fails to dim his. Trying to get even by blinding him is risking your neck. Maintain control of your car by looking at the right shoulder of the highway.

7. Be sure your lights are on before pulling onto a lighted street at night.

A clove tree becomes profitable only after 10 years of growth, while a coffee tree produces after 4 years.

PLAN SERVICES IN ABBOTTSTOWN OVER HOLIDAYS

St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbottstown, has planned the following program for the holiday season:

At 10:30 a.m. Sunday the various organizations will bring their donations of money in the White Gift Service. The gifts will be used toward the redecoration of the church which will be carried out next year. The children of the church will meet during the worship service.

The members of the children's departments of the church school will present their annual program in the church school room at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. Recitations, pageantry, choral singing, and Scripture reading will be used to tell the Christmas story.

Xmas Eve Service

On December 24 at 9 p.m., the Christmas Eve candlelight program will be presented in the nave of the church. The senior choir and the Luther League will reenact the Christmas story through the use of music and pageantry. The service will close with the lighting of the candles. The public is invited.

A congregational meeting for the purpose of electing councilmen will be held Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The first communion of the new year will be held on January 5 at 10:30 a.m. Catechetical classes are being held each Saturday at 1:30.

5. Use headlights properly. Use upper beam only on rural highways when no approaching car is within 1,000 feet. Use lower beam when overtaking another car, and when driving in cities and residential areas.

6. Dim your lights, even though an oncoming driver fails to dim his. Trying to get even by blinding him is asking your neck. Maintain control of your car by looking at the right shoulder of the highway.

7. Be sure your lights are on before pulling onto a lighted street at night.

PLAN SERVICES IN ABBOTTSTOWN OVER HOLIDAYS

St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbottstown, has planned the following program for the holiday season:

At 10:30 a.m. Sunday the various organizations will bring their donations of money in the White Gift Service. The gifts will be used toward the redecoration of the church which will be carried out next year. The children of the church will meet during the worship service.

The members of the children's departments of the church school will present their annual program in the church school room at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. Recitations, pageantry, choral singing, and Scripture reading will be used to tell the Christmas story.

At the close of the program, the youth of the congregation will tout the town and surrounding carols at the homes of the sick and shut-ins, closing the evening with a social at the home of Miss Janet Pagel, president of the Luther League.

Xmas Eve Service
On December 24 at 9 p.m., the Christmas Eve candlelight program will be presented in the nave of the church. The senior choir and the Luther League will reenact the Christmas story through the use of music and pageantry. The service will close with the lighting of the candles. The public is invited.

A congregational meeting for the purpose of electing councilmen will be held Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The first communion of the new year will be held on January 5 at 10:30 a.m. Catechetical classes are being held each Saturday at 1:30.

Glee Club And Choir To Present Program

A Christmas program and tableau, "Mary Our Mother," will be presented by the glee club and choir of St. Joseph's academy, McSherrystown, this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the academy auditorium.

Appearing in the tableau will be: Jacqueline Staub, "Mary"; Katherine Foley, "Gabriel"; Pamela Rencher, "St. Joseph"; Pola Baginski, "Elizabeth"; Jacqueline Cochran, Nadine Coffman and Eileen Dooling, shepherds, and Margaret Noel, Sharon Weist and Mary Bange, wise men.

The prologue will be read by constance Robert while soloists will include JoAnne Conrad, Mary C. Pessagno, Geraldine Lawrence, Barbara Wise and Janet Staub.

The glee club will sing "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" during a candlelight procession and the junior group will sing "Hang Up Your Socks." A duet of carols will be given by Alma Farne and Irene Webster.

Dedication Service Friday Evening

A service of dedication to consecrate recent gifts and memorials for the parish house of Emanuel (Baus) Church, Taneytown, will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It will be followed by a Christmas party for the consistory members and the Aid Society members. The Beginners', Primary and Junior departments of the Sunday School will present an entertainment during the church service Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m. A pageant "Sing a Song of Christmas" will be presented in Emmanuel Church Christmas Eve at 8 p.m. It will be directed by Mrs. Charles Roop. The communion service will follow the pageant. A Baptism service will also be held.

Much of Palm Springs, Calif., is built on an Indian reservation. So the Seminole Indians are getting rich by lease-holding to the Palm Springs tenants.

Plan Christmas Eve Service In Trinity

The traditional Christmas Eve service will be held in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Taneytown, at 7:30 p.m. A cantata—drama entitled, "While Shepherds Watched," will be presented. A large cast will portray the story of how a tired, old returns to the land of his birth to be taxed by the Roman government. He visits his daughter's family while in Bethlehem and realizes his life-long desire of being able to gaze upon the face of the Deliverer of mankind. The pageant is being directed by Miss Jane Gilds. The musical parts are in charge of Mrs. Wallace Yingling with Miss Hazel Hess at the organ. The public is invited to attend this service.

JUDGE HOME

"Santa and Helpers" working in "Santa's Workshop." A star was on the television aerial and an angel on the roof.

Christmas Scenes
Second place for Christmas scenes was awarded the home of Cecil Snyder, N. Main St., and third place to the home of Sterling Roth, E. York St. Honorable mention was given for the displays at the homes of Bruce Sheets, N. Main St.; Albert Kane, E. York St., and Fred Arnold, E. York St.

Overall lighting awards were: Earl Garretson, N. Main St., first; Mrs. Martha Beldier, N. Main St., second and J. H. Donahar, W. York St., third. Honorable mention went to Kenneth S. Alwine, W. Hanover St.; Leslie V. Stock, N. Main St.; Clarence Carey, Fourth St.; John Schmick, N. Main St. and Aline Tipton, E. York St.

Approximately 100 homes in Biglerville were decorated. Most confined efforts to doorways and the judges were of the opinion that displays were among the finest to be found in this vicinity.

While the number of Christmas scenes was smaller than the number of homes at which overall or doorway lightings were featured, the number of large scenes this year exceeded the number in prior years and according to the judges were superior generally.

EUB Xmas Program On Sunday Evening

The Christmas program of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Taneytown, will be given on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The program will consist of recitations and songs by the children. A play of three acts will be given by a cast of 11 persons. The people is called "And They Found Their Christ." From the comforts of city life to the ruggedness of the country go the Hartleys on their vacation. Melvin Hartley, who inherited a farm from his uncle, takes his family to the farm where Melvin enjoyed much of his childhood days. Melvin tries to persuade his family of the merits of the country over the city. From the appearances the family is unimpressed but finally in a Christmas Day climax they are thoroughly convinced in favor of this life. A series of adventuresome, action-packed events lead up to a pleasing conclusion.

The cast is as follows: Jed Hawkins, Arthur Garvin Jr.; Melvin Hartley, Ralph Shipley; Susan Hartley, Mary Peters; Irene Hartley, Phyllis Flickinger; Lance Hartley, Richard White; Fred Bevin, Ray Copenhaver; Ella Bevin, Audrey Glass; Don Bevin, Charles Welk; Rachael Moyer, Joan Cartzenadner; Billy Meyer, Dwight Copenhaver; Billy Meyer, Dwight Copenhaver; Orlo Mackley, Lyle White.

The first Oxford and Cambridge boatrace was held at Henley in 1829.

SEN. HUMPHREY SAYS ONLY 'FACE SAVING' RESULTS GAINED AT PARIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today President Eisenhower got only "face-saving" results in the NATO agreement on establishing missile bases in Europe and exploring possible new disarmament talks with Russia.

Humphrey's skeptical reaction to the Paris summit conference developments was shared in part by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.). But all three members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee joined in urging the administration to put its full weight behind renewed disarmament efforts.

At the same time, Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) said it would be a waste of time for the United States, Britain, France and Canada to discuss arms limitations with the Soviets. These were the Western countries that took part in London disarmament talks that ended in failure last fall.

Can't Rely On Them
"I think any agreement with the Russians could not be relied on," Curtis said in a separate interview. "We wasted a lot of time and energy in the London disarmament talks and I see no value in renewing them."

The NATO conference agreed in principle to the U. S. plan to set up European bases to be equipped with intermediate (1,500-mile) range missiles capable of hitting Russia with nuclear warheads.

Several countries are leery of accepting such missile bases for fear they might be prime targets for Russian rockets.

Coupled with the agreement on bases was American assent to cautious overtures to Russia aimed at finding out whether any new disarmament talks might be fruitful.

Called "Face-saving"
Terming this compromise a "face-saving" move, Humphrey said: "Acceptance in principle does not mean fulfillment in details."

"What is more, because this administration has methodically—if unwittingly—permitted our military position to be weakened, we do not have the missiles to furnish them."

"President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles went to Paris with only one objective, to establish missile bases in Western European countries to strengthen the military alliance. They did not go there with any objective of further negotiations with the Soviets, but our allies insisted on it."

Hopes They'll Reconsider
"I hope they (Eisenhower and Dulles) will now reconsider their flat refusal, even if that letter was a propaganda effort, to take a good look at Bulgaria's letter. We must at all times be prepared to negotiate with Russia. We must re-examine our disarmament proposals and make up our mind what we want."

Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin proposed new East-West talks in a letter to Eisenhower on the eve of the NATO conference.

PAY $150,000 DEATH CLAIMS

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The families of five college students killed in a bus-auto crash near Stroudsburg last January will receive $30,000 each from the Greyhound Lines Bus Co.

Greyhound agreed to the $150,000 payment in U. S. District Court here yesterday. The families each had filed suit for $100,000 against the company.

The court awarded $10,000 to each family under the State Survival Act and $29,000 each to the administrators of the youths' estates under the Wrongful Death Act.

Greyhound also agreed to pay Spyros Marinos, father of the driver of the car in which the youths were riding, $910 for his demolished automobile.

The victims were Demetrius S. Marinos, 19, and McClellan P. Whitenight, 18, both of Bloomsburg; William J. Snyder, 20, Danville; Terry E. Hawk, 19, Nescopeck; and Bernard Bascl, 21, Berwick, all students at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

They were killed on Route 115, near Blakeslee, Monroe County, Jan. 29 when a Greyhound bus hit an icy patch on the highway and swerved into the Marinos car. There were no fatalities on the bus.

Christmas In Jail Pattern For Years

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Edmund R. Jackson of Tulsa says he's spent the past 20 Christmases in jail instead of with his family—and it looks like next Wednesday will be No. 21.

Jackson faces a larceny charge at Tulsa, but last week he talked District Judge W. Lee Johnson into delaying his trial until Dec. 27 so he could spend Christmas at home. Yesterday he was back in jail, this time at Oklahoma City where officers said he was a prime suspect in three recent burglaries.

SEN. HUMPHREY SAYS ONLY 'FACE SAVING' RESULTS GAINED AT PARIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today President Eisenhower got only "face-saving" results in the NATO agreement on establishing missile bases in Europe and exploring possible new disarmament talks with Russia.

Humphrey's skeptical reaction to the Paris summit conference developments was shared in part by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.). But all three members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee joined in urging the administration to put its full weight behind renewed disarmament efforts.

At the same time Sen. Curtis (R-Nebr.) said it would be a waste of time for the United States to set up European bases to be equipped with intermediate (1,500 - mile) range missiles capable of hitting Russia with nuclear warheads.

Several countries are leery of accepting such missile bases for fear they might be prime targets for Russian rockets.

Coupled with the agreement on bases was American assent to cautious overtures to Russia aimed at finding out whether any new disarmament talks might be fruitful.

Called "Face-saving"

Termining this compromise a "face-saving" move, Humphrey said, "Acceptance in principle does not mean fulfillment in detail."

What is more, because this administration has mechanically — if unwittingly — permitted our military position to be weakened, we do not have the missiles to furnish them.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles went to Paris with only one objective: to establish missile bases in Western European countries to strengthen the military alliance. They did not go there with any objective of further negotiations with the Soviets, our allies insisted on it.

Hopes They'll Reconsider

"I hope they (Eisenhower and Dulles) will now reconsider their flat refusal, even if that refusal was a propaganda effort to take a good look at Bulgaria's letter. We must at all times be prepared to negotiate with Russia. We must re-examine our disarmament proposals and make up our mind what we want."

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter how much of a success it is called now, the agreement reached in Paris between this country and its NATO allies yesterday was the very kind Secretary of State Dulles previously said he didn't favor.

Just eight days before the agreement, he said he didn't favor it because it was the kind which he had felt long ago would never get anywhere.

The main purpose of President Eisenhower and Dulles in going to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris — when Western Europe and even this country face the threat of Russian missiles — was this:

To get the allies to accept American nuclear weapons and missiles which would be set up within their borders.

Rift Is Healed
When Eisenhower and Dulles arrived they found some of the Allies wanted no part of the missiles because of their fear of Russian reprisal if war started.

The Paris meeting was split for two days. Then yesterday the 15 Allies agreed — but only in principle — that the NATO nations should accept the new American weapons.

That "principle" doesn't mean anything unless it's put into practice. And this is what must come first:

1. This country must have the missiles to deliver. It is not expected to have them before the end of 1958.

2. The allies must actually agree to accept the missiles in fact. Since now there's only agreement in "principle," any of the 15 can refuse to permit American missiles inside their territory when the rockets are ready.

Some Objected
Earlier this month, before Dulles went to Paris, it was clearly known some of the allies didn't want the weapons.

Because much of the negotiations were going to be handled by diplomats — who are experts at making the unpleasant sound nice — there was a chance they might reach an agreement that sounded bigger than it was.

At a Dulles' news conference here Dec. 10, the secretary was asked if he felt there "should be an agreement in principle on missile bases at the NATO meeting." This was just before he set out for Paris.

Dulles answered: "No, I would not think so. I don't favor a great deal these so-called agreements in principle."

He recalled that he had been at the 1919 Paris peace conference and that whenever he heard three of some proposition being accepted in principle, he said, "I always felt discouraged because I knew it would probably never get anywhere."

2 MAGAZINES GUILTY, FINE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Confidential and Whisper magazines have been convicted by a judge of having conspired to publish obscene matter and have been fined $5,000 each.

The maximum fine — a quiet ending to a once sensational case — was imposed yesterday by Superior Judge H. Burton Noble. The bench trial was agreed upon by the state and the defense after a hung jury ended an earlier trial.

Confidential and Whisper were tried alone without a jury on the basis of the first trial's transcript and only on the obscenity charge. Charges against 11 individuals, including publisher Robert Harrison, were dismissed.

Harrison agreed in return to revise the magazines' format and stop publishing scandal stories about celebrities.

Debate Language To Be Used On Moon

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — What language will the first human on the moon speak?

This unlikely question came up yesterday at a news conference with 17 physicists from 10 nations attending a science meeting at Stanford University.

The scientists were quick with the answers:

M. M. Levy from the University of Paris in France suggested, "Broken English is a good guess."

Countered L. R. B. Elton of Kings College in London.

Student Gets Doe Between His Classes

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — A high school pupil bagged a doe between classes with an assist from his teacher.

Mrs. Sidney Kennedy, the teacher, saw the doe in a field near the school, learned Michael Grimsone had a hunting license and let him run home for his rifle.

Grimsone shot the doe and returned to classes.

Glee Club And Choir To Present Program

A Christmas program and tableau, "Mary Our Mother," will be presented by the glee club and choir of St. Joseph's academy, McSherrystown, this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the academy auditorium.

Appearing in the tableau will be: Jacqueline Staub, "Mary"; Katherine Foley, "Gabriel"; Pamela Rencher, "St. Joseph"; Pola Baglinski, "Elizabeth"; Jacqueline Cochran, Nadine Coffman and Eileen Dooling, shepherds, and Margaret Noel, Sharon West and Mary Bange, wise men.

The prologue will be read by constance Robert while soloists will include JoAnne Conrad, Mary C. Passano, Geraldine Lawrence, Barbara Wise and Janet Staub.

The glee club will sing "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" during a candlelight procession and the junior group will sing "Hang Up Your Socks." A duet of carols will be given by Alma Farne and Irene Webster.

Dedication Service Friday Evening

A service of dedication to consecrate recent gifts and memorials for the parish house of Emmanuel (Baptist) Church, Taneytown, will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It will be followed by a Christmas party for the consistory members and the Aid Society members. The church service Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m. A pageant "Sing a Song of Christmas" will be presented in Emmanuel Church Christmas Eve at 8 p.m. It will be directed by Mrs. Charles Roop. The communion service will follow the pageant. A baptism service will also be held.

Much of Palm Springs, Calif., is built on an Indian reservation. So the Semilla Indians are getting rich by leasing-land to the Palm Springs tenants.

"The Birth of Christ" is presented in the above outdoor tableau on the campus of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg.

Plan Christmas Eve Service In Trinity

The traditional Christmas Eve service will be held in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Taneytown, at 7:30 p.m. A cantata-drama entitled, "While Shepherds Watched," will be presented. A large cast will portray the story of how a tired, old returns to the land of his birth to be taxed by the Roman government. He visits his daughter's family while in Bethlehem and realizes his life-long desire of being able to gaze upon the face of the Deliverer of mankind. The pageant is being directed by Miss Jane Glids. The musical parts are in charge of Mrs. Wallace Yungling with Miss Hazel Hess at the organ. The public is invited to attend this service.

JUDGE HOME

"Santa and Helpers" working in "Santa's Workshop." A star was on the television aerial and an angel on the roof.

Christmas Scenes
Second place for Christmas scenes was awarded the home of Cecil Snyder, N. Main St., and third place to the home of Sterling Roth, E. York St. Honorable mention was given for the displays at the homes of Bruce Sheetz, N. Main St.; Albert Kane, E. York St., and Fred Arnold, E. York St.

Overall lighting awards were: Earl Garretson, N. Main St., first; Mrs. Martha Beidler, N. Main St., second; and J. H. Donahar, W. York St., third. Honorable mention went to Kenneth S. Alwine, W. Hanover St.; Leslie V. Stock, N. Main St.; Clarence Carey, Fourth St.; John Schmick, N. Main St. and Alene Tipton, E. York St.

Approximately 100 homes in Biglerville were decorated. Most confined efforts to doorways and the judges were of the opinion that displays were among the finest to be found in this vicinity.

While the number of Christmas scenes was smaller than the number of homes at which overall or doorway lightings were featured, the number of large scenes this year exceeded the number in prior years and according to the judges were superior generally.

Death Valley is a colored rock trough in California about 140 miles long. One hundred years ago it really was a desert. Today it is a tourist resort with swimming pools. Also valuable borax mines.

EUB Xmas Program On Sunday Evening

The Christmas program of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Taneytown, will be given on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The program will consist of recitations and songs by the children. A play of three acts will be given by a cast of 11 persons. The people is called "And They Found Their Christ." From the comforts of city life to the ruggedness of the country, go the Hartleys on their vacation. Melvin Hartley, who inherited a farm from his uncle, takes his family to the farm where Melvin enjoyed much of his childhood days. Melvin tries to persuade his family of the merits of the country over the city. From the appearances the family is unimpressed, but finally in a Christmas Day climax they are thoroughly convinced in favor of this life. A series of adventuresome action — packed events lead up to a pleasing conclusion.

The cast is as follows: Jed Hawkins, Arthur Gavin Jr., Melvin Hartley, Ralph Shipley, Susan Snyder, Mary Peters, Irene Hartley, Phyllis Flickinger, Lance Hartley, Richard White, Fred Bevin, Ray Copenhaver, Ella Bevin, Audrey Glass, Don Bevin, Charles Welk, Rachael Moyer, Joan Cartzendafer, Billy Meyer, Dwight Copenhaver, Billy Meyer, Dwight Copenhaver, Orlo Mackley, Lyle White.

The first Oxford and Cambridge boatrace was held at Henley in 1829.

James MARLOW Reports
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter how much of a success it is called now, the agreement reached in Paris between this country and its NATO allies yesterday was the very kind Secretary of State Dulles previously said he didn't favor.

Just eight days before the agreement, he said he didn't favor it because it was the kind which he had felt long ago would never get anywhere.

The main purpose of President Eisenhower and Dulles in going to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris — when Western Europe and even this country face the threat of Russian missiles — was this.

To get the allies to accept American nuclear weapons and missiles which would be set up within their borders.

Rift Is Healed
When Eisenhower and Dulles arrived they found some of the allies wanted no part of the missiles because of their fear of Russian reprisal if war started.

The Paris meeting was split for two days. Then yesterday the 15 allies agreed — but only in principle — that the NATO nations should accept the new American weapons.

That 'principle' doesn't mean anything unless it's put into practice. And this is what must come first:

1. This country must have the missiles to deliver. It is not expected to have them before the end of 1958.

2. The allies must actually agree to accept the missiles in fact. Since now there's only agreement in "principle," any of the 15 can refuse to permit American missiles inside their territory when the rockets are ready.

Some Objected
Earlier this month, before Dulles went to Paris, it was clearly known some of the allies didn't want the weapons.

Because much of the negotiations were going to be handled by diplomats — who are experts at making the unpleasant sound nice — there was a chance they might reach an agreement that sounded bigger than it was.

At a Dulles' news conference here Dec. 10, the secretary was asked if he felt there "should be an agreement in principle on missile bases at the NATO meeting." This was just before he set out for Paris.

Dulles answered "No. I would not think so. I don't favor a great deal these so-called agreements in principle."

He recalled that he had been at the 1919 Paris peace conference and that whenever he heard there of some proposition being accepted in principle, he said, "I always felt discouraged because I knew it would probably never get anywhere."

2 MAGAZINES GUILTY, FINE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Confidential and Whisper magazines have been convicted by a judge of having conspired to publish obscene matter and have been fined $5,000 each.

The maximum fine — a quiet ending to a once sensational case — was imposed yesterday by Superior Judge H. Burton Noble. The bench trial was agreed upon by the state and the defense after a hung jury ended an earlier trial.

Confidential and Whisper were tried alone without a jury on the basis of the first trial's transcript and only on the obscene charge. Charges against the duals including publisher Robert Harrison, were dropped.

Harrison agreed in return to revise the magazines' format and stop publishing scandal stories about celebrities.

Debate Language To Be Used On Moon

PALO ALTO, Cal. (AP) — What language will the first human on the moon speak?

This week's question came up yesterday at a news conference with 17 participants from 10 nations attending a science meeting at Stanford University.

The scientists were quick with the answers.

M. M. Le — from the University of Paris — France suggested "Broken English" as a good compromise.

Student Gets Doe Between His Classes

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — A high school pupil, accused of a doe between his classes, was taken from his teacher.

Mr. Sidney Kennedy, the teacher, saw the doe in a field near the school, learned Moore's G. Moore had a bunting license and let him run home for his rifle.

Grimace shot the doe and returned to classes.

The Legacy Of Luke With Intense Curiosity For Detail Luke Begins His Historic Search

EDITOR'S NOTE: Until Luke wrote the gospel bearing his name, the story of the Nativity had not been committed to print. Here is a recounting of how the systematic physician may have set out to erase the unknowns about Christ's arrival on earth.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
Wonder is the spur to knowledge.

This was the compelling call that drew Luke into the greatest reporting assignment of all time. He was out to prove a divine mystery—the advent of his Lord.

During a period while his comrade and spiritual mentor, Paul, was a prisoner in Caesarea on the Mediterranean east coast from about 57 to 59 A.D., Luke had the time to pursue his monumental inquiry.

There would be no better chance, and he was near Jesus' home territory.

There was a store of documents for his preliminary scrutiny. Many persons, as he wrote, had "undertaken to compile a narrative" of Jesus. But to Luke, a doctor trained in factual analysis, they were far from complete.

None gave a precise description of the Lord's arrival — no adequate explanation of an occurrence that would amaze men ever after.

Meticulous Research
Luke, the polished, observant physician, went to work. What he was to learn would be carved through the centuries at Christmas.

In earnest prayer, devotion and with a clinical scrupulousness to get, as he said, an "orderly account," he set about to examine the records, and to consult surviving witnesses who had firsthand information.

To start his research, the bits of scrolls and parchments that circulated guardedly among the congregations were a help, even though fragmentary and meager. And by cross-checking, he found, some could be ignored as colored inventions.

Two of Luke's best sources were certainly the aging apostle Matthew, and John Mark, both authors of gospels. The earliest gospel was Mark's. Both Luke and Matthew made use of it. But it didn't satisfy the ques-

Helped Saint Paul

While he lived in Caesarea, Mark came there briefly to renew his service in Paul's far-flung missionary work. Mark had timidly withdrawn from the risky venture before, but in Paul's present trouble, he returned.

Luke then was staying at the hospitable stone house of Philip, a seasoned evangelist with four spirited, cultured daughters. Like Luke, they spoke Greek and Hebrew. The young convert, Timothy, and other co-workers also were there.

It was an ideal opportunity for Luke to confer with Mark, who had been closely associated with the saintly, bighearted old Peter. Mark, for his literary assistance, was called the chief apostle's interpreter.

Surely, Peter had related all manner of things about Jesus. Could not Mark pass on some clarification of the early period? As they conversed — the clean-shaven Greek and the bearded Jew — they strolled, perchance, along the paved promenade beside the city's man-made harbor. Luke rubbed his chin, glancing sideways at Mark. Had he obtained no details about the birth of Jesus? For truly, this was the core of the whole movement, the incarnation of God as man.

No Assistance

Mark's brow furrowed, his gaze on the sea. No, no, he was not certain. Peter did not dwell on those first things. Perhaps he had mentioned it. But . . . Mark shook his head.

Luke persisted. But have you not asked the first apostle about this wonder? Can you offer no light on our Lord's infancy and childhood? Being a man as well as our Redeemer, He must have grown up, even as you and I? Mark spread his hands. No, alas, he had nothing, nothing definite.

Shortly thereafter, Mark was sent by Paul to work in Colossae. From his cell, Paul dispatched an introductory letter for him.

Mark, who had been a lad, the son of a wealthy widow of Jerusalem when Jesus was crucified there, recounted in his short gospel only the days of Jesus' adult ministry — the phase shared and known well by Peter — nothing else!

"Exacting Accuracy"

Luke used much of this material—350 of Mark's 661 verses — some of it condensed and improved in phraseology and medical particulars, all with exacting accuracy. But Luke also sought the fuller record.

Through the apostle, Matthew, the one-time tax collector, Luke secured considerable guidance, obtaining data from an old "collection of sayings" by Jesus, which Matthew had, and which now is often called the "Q" document (for the German "quelle" or source).

The result is reflected in 238 verses common to the gospels of Luke and Matthew. Matthew also provided some insight into the beginnings of the holy visitation, the mystical aspects which had fascinated Luke.

The apostle told of Joseph's worried perplexity in Nazareth when Mary became heavy with child, and of his eventual understanding of her condition as an act of God — that she had conceived "of the holy spirit."

But in terse, restricted passages that cry out for amplification, Matthew specifies only that Jesus was "born in Bethlehem," and promptly, skips a year or two ahead — to the visit and gifts of the wise men.

He also sketches King Herod's panic at reports of the Eastern magi about the display of a great star; and tells of the Herod-ordered massacre of Bethlehem children, of the baby Jesus being spirited to Egypt, and eventually back to Nazareth.

Nothing on the Nativity
That is all. Of the majestic, supreme moment, when God took on the disguise of a human infant, of the instant when heaven and earth met, there was nothing else.

Luke's dissecting mind thirsted for a more thorough picture of it all. Why was the birth in Bethlehem when the couple lived in Nazareth? What was the year? No hint was given — only that it was sometime in the 37-year reign of Herod. The record of such a prodigious event was all too scanty.

Was the birth altogether normal? Who was there? Was it in a palace or a hovel? Had the mother known of the miraculous circumstances — and consequences? What secrets did she bear? What did she do? What was the child like?

Suspend Negro From Little Rock School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A Negro girl, one of the nine Negroes at Little Rock Central High School, was suspended indefinitely Tuesday for dumping her food on two white boys in a fit of temper, school authorities said.

Minnie Jean Brown was sent home from class after the incident in the school cafeteria during a lunch period.

The minimum length of suspensions is three days and Virgil T. Blossom, superintendent of schools, said he did not know, pending full investigation, how long the Brown girl would be out. Christmas holidays begin Thursday.

It was the first incident at the integrated high school in which a Negro student was suspended. A number of white students have been suspended for incidents involving the Negro students.

Cook was sentenced after admitting violation of parole.

Such a possibility was discussed Monday by two Army generals. In response to an inquiry at the Pentagon Tuesday, a spokesman said: "The Department of the Army staff has no plans for using Ft. Sill or Ft. Bliss as an impact area for missiles fired from other Army areas."

MOSS DEPLORES NEWS OF TESTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), chairman of the House subcommittee on government information, today deplored what he called "unwarranted criticism" of publicity about the ill-fated Vanguard satellite test.

In a letter to Murray Snyder, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, Moss said: "All honest efforts to keep the public fully informed on the progress of our earth satellite capabilities will continue to receive my unqualified support."

Since failure of the Vanguard test rocket Dec. 6, there has been widespread criticism of publicity about the project. Some congressmen and others say such tests should be conducted in secret to avoid damage to U.S. prestige in event of failure.

Favors Secrecy

Two officials of the Navy, which supervises Project Vanguard, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee earlier this week that they test, but were overruled by Snyder, the Pentagon's information chief.

Snyder replied Monday night that it was his responsibility to give the public news of Defense Department operations, "not to exploit the successes and hide the failures."

Wenksville Methodist Church Traces Its Beginning Back To 1844; Story Of Growth

This is the second and final installment on the history of the Wenksville Methodist Church, the first installment of which appeared in The Gettysburg Times on Wednesday.

A part of the pastor's report at the second quarterly conference for the York Springs Charge held at York Springs July 31, 1888, is as follows: "The union school at Wenksville is the largest and most flourishing school on the circuit and I am of the opinion that here would be our strongest Sunday School if our people could move to themselves. May the time come even in our pastorate when this can be done. The church at each appointment is in some degree prospering, yet advance in many directions is desired and should be expected. The congregations are generally good yet the irregularity of some of our members is a cause of anxiety to the pastor. If there can be real spiritual life with indifference to the public services he has no complaint to make, but if attendance upon the means of grace is one of the signs of a vigorous life, several of our members are already spiritually dead. May the Lord in some way lead them to see their duty."

"On June 27, 22 were received into full membership at Wenksville. Others will be received in due time at other points. We have on the circuit many baptized children several of whom are old enough to be formed into classes. This important work will be done at the earliest possible date. None excluded from the church. One received by letter, none have died and none withdrawn.

"The pastoral work has been limited. The circuit is large, the people greatly scattered and the pastor is without a horse. He has hired all he could afford and done what he could on foot.

Talks Of New Church

"We wish to call the attention of our people at Wenksville to the advisability of erecting a new church at that place, that they may be no longer hampered by the restrictions necessarily placed upon congregations using a union church. This class is the strongest and most zealous on the circuit, and would, we are persuaded, accomplish much more for God and Methodism if it could train its children in the peculiarities of our denomination. (Signed) W. W. Carhart, preacher in charge."

Rev. W. W. Carhart was transferred and Rev. E. M. Allen was appointed for the last nine months of 1888.

Rev. Edmund White served in 1889-90 and Rev. J. W. Forest in 1891-92. At a fourth quarterly conference held at York Springs February 14, 1891, William Hendrix, Daniel Beamer and Mrs. Cullings were elected stewards for the conference year. Mrs. Hendrix was appointed to the parsonage committee and Oliver Orner was appointed a trustee for church and parsonage property. During this year the debt on the York Springs circuit parsonage was canceled. Also this same year, 1891, the Brick Union church in Wenksville burned down. The following report appeared in the annual conference minutes: "A blessing in disguise? The burning of an old union church at Wenksville, York Springs circuit, will give us a brand new Methodist Church for which over $1,300.00 have been subscribed."

THE WENKSVILLE METHODIST CHURCH

At a fourth quarterly conference meeting at Bendersville February 5, 1892, Oliver Orner reported $1,320.00 on subscription for a new M. E. Church at Wenksville.

When the Methodists decided to build their own church, they bought what furnishings had been saved from the old church for $294. Also on April 26, 1892, Moses M. Black and Oliver S. Orner, trustees of the Union Church at Wenks, signed for the sum of $25 the deed of that land over to D. H. Beamer, H. P. Cashman, William Hendricks, Waybright Rice and O. S. Orner who were trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Wenks. Since that time the two denominations have worshipped in their own church, built across the road from each other, but have maintained friendly relations and a spirit of cooperation down through the years.

Tell Of Dedication

The Wenksville Methodist Episcopal church was dedicated September 25, 1892. The minutes of the third quarterly conference held at Huntstown read as follows: "In the morning Rev. Leonard Gardner preached on, 'Thou art Peter, on this rock will I build my church and gates of Hell shall not prevail against it.' The afternoon children's meeting was addressed by Revs. Gardner, Buckley and Singer. In the evening Rev. Buckley preached ably from, 'We will grow into all truth.' The church cost $2,350.00. When the day began $600 was to be provided for. At its close all was provided for but about $75."

"Two brothers of California whose father belongs to Wenksville church presented a good pupil, Jane Heller, a pupil hymnal; Mrs. Jesse Heller, a pupil Bible, and Mrs. Belfora Heller, a bell costing $112. Much pastoral work was done during last quarter, mostly on Wenksville appointment. A revival meeting was held lasting about four weeks."

Lesson Well Heeded

ville was dedicated on September 25. The Revs. L. M. Gardner of the Baltimore conference and J. W. Buckley and pastor George A. Singer officiating. This church is a superior and very attractive framed structure cased in brick and cost $2,300. It is free of all incumbrance except $100 which is amply covered by subscriptions. This edifice succeeds an old union church destroyed by fire. No insurance and the lesson well heeded."

Rev. George A. Singer 1892-95. At the fourth quarterly conference of the York Springs circuit held at Bendersville June 21, 1893, it was reported that an Epworth League chapter has been formed at Wenksville with Henry Cashman as president, and that Annie B. Spangler was taken into the church in full membership. Also, at this time Amos Orner was appointed in charge of music a position he served for many years.

In 1894 William Cooper was president of the Epworth League and in 1896 Henry Taylor was appointed to that office. He was appointed trustee at the same time and continued a constant worker in the church through the years that followed.

Rev. H. A. Straub served in 1896-97. L. E. Kuhn was elected secretary of the third quarterly conference October 17, 1896. He held many different offices in the church including sexton, for the longest period of time in the church's history. His grandson, Donald Wenk, is the present sexton.

Pastor Wanner Died
During this time both Beamer and Wenksville churches were in operation with H. P. Cashman, O. S. Orner, Waybright Rice, Henry Taylor and D. H. Beamer trustees for Wenksville and Wesley Oyer, George Beamer and D. H. Beamer trustees for eamers. The membership of these churches overlapped even to the point that both had some of the same trustees. Beamer's church was torn down in the early 1900's and at present those people belong to Wenksville Methodist Church.

Rev. E. W. Wanner served in 1898-1900. Early in 1900 after a brief illness Rev. Wanner passed from toil to reward. Theodore W. Haven was appointed pastor to finish the rest of the term.

Rev. H. F. Cares 1901-02. Rev. Amos M. Bruce 1903-05. At the fourth quarterly conference in 1904 the following trustees were appointed: H. S. Cashman, O. S. Orner, Henry Taylor, D. H. Beamer, W. T. Wenk, Joseph Taylor, Henry Black, S. Grant Warren, W. T. Wenk was appointed Sunday School superintendent at the same time.

About Long Sermons
Rev. William E. Ruth served in 1906-09. The long sermons then are explained by the following admonition: (Continued on Page 17)

CLARK CHARGES "BOYCOTTING"

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) says the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards is boycotting his housing subcommittee's investigation.

Clark, former Philadelphia mayor, heads the subcommittee of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, which has been conducting hearings here in Pittsburgh and Portland, Maine.

Clark, interrupting a hearing on urban renewal, Tuesday said: "The local Philadelphia board at first accepted an invitation to testify and then, only 10 days ago, notified us that it would be unable to appear."

"The same thing happened in the other cities."

"I am convinced that this national boycott is of the advice of the national lobby in Washington, on the ground that these are partisan hearings."

Clark said the Philadelphia board has information "that can be of great use to this committee," and invited board representatives to testify at today's session.

PROMISE EARLY PAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Treasurer Robert F. Kent promised today that paychecks due state employees on Christmas or the two days after will be paid by Dec. 24.

The state paydays occurring on Christmas and the two days following—which have been designated holidays for state workers by Gov. Leader—include the state's judiciary, faculty and employees of state teachers' colleges, welfare institutions, and the Departments of Property and Supplies, Revenue, Treasury and Auditor General, as well as some boards and commissions.

Minia-Tours

By Louise and Walter Hubbard

For many years it has been the practice of Americans to get away from sleet, snow and disagreeable weather by going down to Florida, resorts in the desert, or to points along the West coast. This was all very well, but now a vast new area has been developed which has so much more to offer the vacationist at about the same cost. We refer to Puerto Rico and nearby Caribbean islands.

Says Yanks Can Put Satellite In Orbit

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Project Vanguard scientist reported the nation has "the knowledge to put a satellite in orbit, but anything can go wrong."

Sol Levine, a supervisor on the project, told an OX-5 Wright Brothers memorial dinner here Tuesday night, that Vanguard scientists were "disappointed but not discouraged" by their failure to launch an earth satellite earlier this month.

Levine is head of the navigation and guidance equipment section of the Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore, which built the missile.

FATALLY INJURED

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—A 71-year-old man was fatally injured Tuesday when an automobile careened off U.S. 301, plunged down an embankment and into a tree.

The victim was Howard E. Hoffman, of Route 2, Quakertown, Pa. Stoney Creek town Sgt. W. R. Johnson said he was a passenger in a car driven by his daughter, Miss Louise A. Hoffman, 44, of Allentown, Pa.

Tune In WGET, 1450 On Your Dial

A couple or family may board a plane in New York; fly non-stop to San Juan and in a little over five hours land in United States territory which is as foreign as Spain, without the difficulties of a language barrier. In a short time flights will originate in other East coast cities.

The brief ride from the magnificent airport into the capital is, in itself, enough to convince you that here is the ideal spot to relax and forget your troubles. The sun will be shining; exotic flowers perfuming the air; giant poinsettias blooming beside the pastel-tinted houses, often growing as high as the roofs; palm and coconut trees waving their fronds in a gentle breeze — and it's never cold in any season.

Accommodations

Accommodations in every price range are available. At the Caribe Hilton, largest and finest hotel in the Caribbean, a room with a private balcony overlooking the incredibly blue sea averages $20 a day, double. Here you can enjoy the colorful open-air lobbies; orchid gardens; tennis courts; swimming pool with three diving boards; private beach lined with cabanas having showers, radios and telephones; and facilities for every conceivable sport. What more could anyone want?

With all this luxury, a person might think that he would need to spend a fortune for clothes in order to feel comfortably dressed. Not so — summer sports outfits for daytime wear and something a little dressier for evening are just right.

Take Sun Glasses

Since there is nothing clammy than a wet bathing suit, we suggest two or more. They don't dry very fast even though the humidity count is quite low. And of course, sunglasses. These are most important and can prevent headache caused by the tropical glare. A light sweater might come in handy, but never a coat or heavy garment of any kind.

The downtown section of old

San Juan may be reached on foot, if you're a good walker; by island buses; taxicabs; or rented cars. Here you will see houses and shops which have stood for hundreds of years along the brick-paved narrow streets. In regard to shopping — other than hand-embroidered blouses and skirts; woven baskets and pottery; there aren't any really good buys. Puerto Rico is not a free port and prices are high compared to sister islands. Any of these are reached by the little island-hopping planes which make the run in 30 minutes or an hour, depending on the distance.

Sightseeing Tours

Local sightseeing tours include the ancient Spanish fort, el Morro; La Fortaleza, a fortress which has been used as the official residence of governors since the middle of the 17th century; Fort Gerónimo, within a few feet of the Caribe Hilton hotel; the rain forest of El Yunque; beautiful Luquillo beach, fringed with coconut palms; through pineapple plantations and fields of sugar cane — plus innumerable places of interest.

You have never tasted pineapple until you try one which has been picked ripe, dripping with golden juice. Plantain prepared in novel ways, barbecued pig, chicken with rice — these and other native dishes will tempt your appetite.

Wenksville

tion printed in the Central Pennsylvania Conference Journal for 1956: "The time required for the full order of service is thirty minutes, unless the pastor is not prayed up-to-date and consumes too much time in vain repetitions. In a service one hour and fifteen minutes long, that leaves forty-five minutes for the sermon — long enough for anybody except a bishop or presiding elder — the congregation dismissed before 12:00. Unless the service begins at that unholy hour 11:00 in which case it is hardly worth while for the pastor to even attempt to preach at all."

Journal Excerpt

Rev. Fred A. Goeller was pastor in 1910; Rev. Abner C. Logan, 1911-12; Rev. Luther W. McGarvey, 1913-14; Rev. William R. McKinney, salary for the charge was $23 and Rev. McKinney had a large family.

So, take the money you have put aside to build a new porch or something; make your reservations; hire a boy to shovel your sidewalks; turn down the thermostat; pack your bags with warm weather clothing and head for Puerto Rico. Rev. James Doherty served in 1917-18; Rev. James H. Gilbert, 1919; Rev. Aaron J. Martin, 1920-22; Rev. James A. Farrar, 1923; Rev. L. Vance Green, 1924; Rev. J. Resler Shultz, 1925; Rev. Henry Kiesel, 1926; Rev. S. J. Pittinger, 1927-30; Rev. Pittinger's wife passed away while he was serving this charge.

Rev. F. J. Geiger served in 1931; Rev. E. J. Graft, 1932-35. The following was taken from the Central Pennsylvania annual Conference Journal: "Among the major expenditures were York Springs, $1,014, part of which was for a complete bathroom outfit, all paid. E. J. Graft always improves properties and always pay the bills for the work done."

Present Charge Formed

Rev. H. O. Gotshall served in 1936-39 and was the first ordained preacher ever sent to this charge. He was the first pastor to retire upon completing his service to the charge and he helped bring about a second division of the York Springs Charge in 1940.

The new charge was called the Bendersville Methodist Charge and is made up of Bendersville, Orrtanna and Wenkville churches. The first pastor of the Bendersville charge was the Rev. Nelson H. Frank, 1939-42.

A new parsonage was built in 1940 at Bendersville by the Bendersville and Wenkville churches.

Mervin C. Black planned and did most of the carpenter work on the new building. The following officers were elected for the first year on the new charge: Trustees, E. H. Fohl, M. C. Black, Albert Kuhn, Aaron Taylor Sr., Emmert Warren, Guy Wenk, John Wenk, Ernie R. Tuckey; pianist, Mrs. Emmert Warren; assistant pianist, Kathryn Wenk Tuckey, and communion steward, Mrs. Mary Fohl.

Improvements Made

The next pastor was Rev. George W. Harrison, 1942-47, and it was during this pastorate that plans were made and excavation begun on a basement underneath the church. The basement was completed during the next pastorate served by Rev. Richard K. Tittle, 1947-49. The new basement was dedicated March 16, 1949, with Rev. G. W. Harrison and Rev. Tittle as speakers. Rev. Tittle continued with plans to redecorate the interior of the church which were completed after Rev. Richard H. L. Vanaman, 1949-51, became pastor.

Rev. Vanaman conducted a dedication service in which the following furnishings were dedicated: A Hammond electronic organ, given in memory of Mrs. Betty Wenk Cline, onetime church and Sunday School pianist; an altar and lectern, altar cross, vases, and candlesticks, all given by the Women's Society of Christian Service in memory of past members of the society and the former Ladies Aid Society; a pulpit

Bible, given by Mrs. Mary Showers and family; a lectern Bible given by Freddie Showers, oldest member of the church; altar frontlet, lectern and pulpit scarves, and pulpit and lectern Bible markers made by Mrs. Lulu Taylor and presented by the Women's Society of Christian Service; altar, lectern and pulpit fair linen cloths, made and given by Mrs. Lulu Taylor in memory of her husband, Clarence, and mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Taylor; a painting of Sallman's "Head Of Christ," given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuhn in memory of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kuhn. Rev. Vanaman spoke on the topic, "A Church That Christ Can Use."

Current Building Plans

Rev. S. W. Hollingsworth served 1952-55. Again the church school facilities were found to be inadequate and Rev. Hollingsworth inaugurated a building fund to build a new church school and social room in back of the present church building.

To the present pastor, Rev. Eugene R. Steiner, falls the job of continuing and completing the new building. The present membership of the church is 171, and the church school enrollment is 136. The present valuation of the church building and furnishings is $34,400.

It is necessary before closing to make apology to the many faithful workers whose names have been missed in the few records now existing.

Peddlers with vitamin "bargains"

Door-to-door salesmen, some quite respectable, are peddling vitamin preparations and offering a "bargain." They show you capsules with an impressive list of ingredients, then tell you they cost less than the established brands we carry. But it's like buying a pound of pennies or a pound of dimes. Wouldn't you pay a little more for the pound of dimes? Same with vitamins. It's the potency that counts. Potency is the only true measure. We'll be glad to prove this to you next time you stop in.

FRENCH FRET OVER INVASION BY ENGLISH

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS (AP) — With the franc falling, North Africa in revolt and a state of barely controlled chaos prevailing politically, France has still another major preoccupation these days. It's called "The defense of the French language" and is aimed primarily against such subversive English imports as "cocktail," "rush," "pick-up" and "star."

The literary weeklies and the after column to this subject every week, but seem to be making little or no progress. The French language keeps picking up more English as day follows day to "le weekend."

The conceptions of French and English speaking persons about language are basically opposed. English speaking persons think of the language as a continually growing thing adopting new words and modes of expression as a matter of course. The French consider their language a finished, perfect thing which should be guarded almost like the treasures of a museum.

Invasions Treasure House
And some "intellectuals" here are convinced that Britons and Americans are determined to invade this treasure house as part of a plot to supplant French influence in all fields throughout the world.

The spread of Frenchified English words appears based on two fundamental reasons: words in new arts and sciences originate in English and are adopted; and "le snobism." Many upper-class and would-be upper-class French delight in imitating the British aristocracy.

But the way they do it makes English-speaking persons laugh. Just recently, for example, the newspaper "Figaro" lamented that with the perfectly good French word "annonceur" to describe a radio announcer the French broadcasting and television networks insisted on using "the English form of speaker for a man and speakerine for a woman."

Why Use "Flash"
"Le Monde" asked this week why French news agencies said "flash" instead of the equivalent "clair" and why one comes into an airport on a "beam" instead of the "faisceau herzien." But the same issue of "le Monde" back-alid a little by reporting that Algerian Minister Robert Lacoste was consulting "les leaders du gouvernement" and might address "un meeting."

Describing a holiday trip, a young Frenchman wrote of listening to "les smash-hits" on "le pick-up" before going out for "un hamburger et un milkshake au snack-bar" dressed in his "shorts et pull-over." He had been reading "unbest-seller" and also found time to see "un Western musical en cinemascope et technicolor" with "une star" and "des pin-up girls" whom he particularly admired.

A professor said many of these could be called "Anglo-Saxon behavior words" and suggested some of them be adopted completely. He urged the French to write "coquette" (pronounced co-ke-tall) for guess what and "vequand" (pronounced vay-kan) for those few free days at the end of the week. But, he asked, why say the "vequand" is for "le relax" when the language already possessed "detente"?

Income Tax Forms Are Available

Federal income tax forms for the preparation of 1957 returns are now available in reasonable quantities to accountants, attorneys and other professional tax practitioners. Edgar A. McGinnis, director of the 23-county Philadelphia District of Internal Revenue, said today.

Practitioners, requiring quantities of forms weighing in excess of four pounds, may secure such supplies or accept shipment collect. Requests for shipment should be made to District Director of Internal Revenue, Room 201, Post Office, York.

Request for forms should not include forms 940, 941, 942, 943 or 720.

Individual taxpayers on record are asked not to request blank forms since they will receive forms and instruction booklets through the mails on the same schedule as last year, during late December or early January, McGinnis said.

3 Federal Grants Awarded In State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal grants totaling $96,179 were earmarked for three Pennsylvania rehabilitation and education institutions for demonstration and research projects to better employment opportunities for the disabled. It was announced Tuesday.

In Philadelphia, the County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Assn. for Retarded Children, Inc., will receive $34,638 and the University of Pennsylvania $26,116.

The Annapolis Rehabilitation Center in Pittsburgh was granted $35,225.

The funds were allotted by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Wenksville Methodist Church Traces Its Beginning Back To 1844; Story Of Growth

This is the second and final installment on the history of the Wenksville Methodist Church, the first installment of which appeared in The Gettysburg Times on Wednesday.

A part of the pastor's report at the second quarterly conference for the York Springs Charge held at York Springs July 31, 1956, is as follows: "The union school at Wenksville is the largest and most flourishing school on the circuit and I am of the opinion that here would be our strongest Sunday School if our people could move to themselves. May the time come, even in our pastorate when this can be done. The church at each appointment is in some degree prospering, yet advance in many directions is desired and should be expected. The congregations are generally good yet the irregularity of some of our members is a cause of anxiety to the pastor. If there can be real spiritual life with indifference to the public services he has no complaint to make, but if attendance upon the means of grace is one of the signs of a vigorous life, several of our members are already spiritually dead. May the Lord in some way lead them to see their duty."

"On June 27, 22 were received into full membership at Wenksville. Others will be received in due time at other points. We have on the circuit many baptized children several of whom are old enough to be formed into classes. This important work will be done at the earliest possible date. None excluded from the church. One received by letter, none have died and none withdrawn."

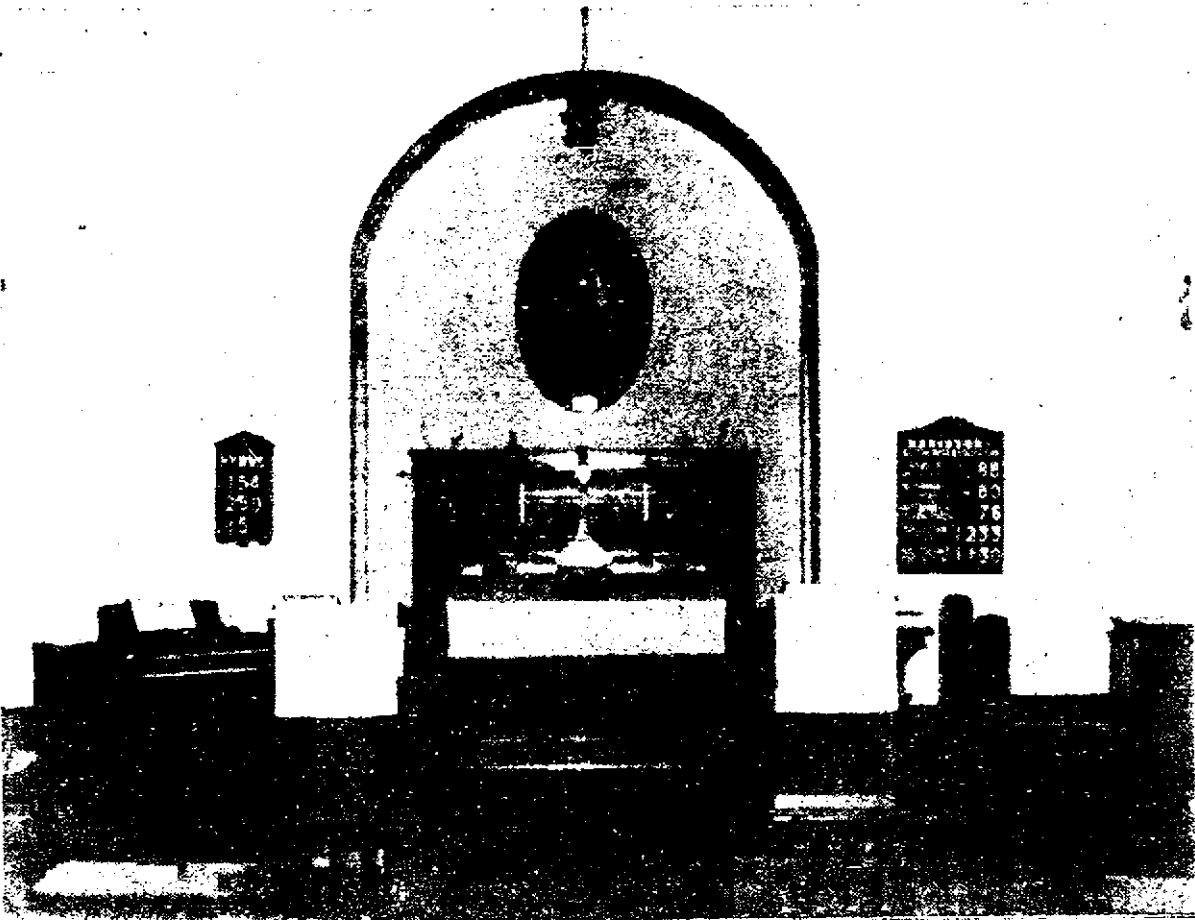

"The pastoral work has been limited. The circuit is large, the people greatly scattered and the pastor is without a horse. He has hired all he could afford and done what he could or foot."

Talks Of New Church

"We wish to call the attention of our people at Wenksville to the advisability of erecting a new church at that place, that they may be no longer hampered by the restrictions necessarily placed upon congregations using a union church. This class is the strongest and most zealous on the circuit, and would, we are persuaded, accomplish much more for God and Methodism if it could train its children in the peculiarities of our denomination. Signed W. W. Carhart, preacher in charge."

Rev. W. W. Carhart was transferred and Rev. E. M. Aller was appointed for the last nine months of 1956.

Rev. Edmund White served in 1889-90 and Rev. J. W. Forest in 1891-92. At a fourth quarterly conference held at York Springs February 14, 1891, William Hendrix, Daniel Beamer and Mrs. Cullings were elected stewards for the conference year. Mrs. Hendrix was appointed to the parsonage committee and Oliver Orner was appointed a trustee for church and parsonage property. During this year the debt on the York Springs circuit parsonage was cancelled. Also this same year, 1891, the Brick Union church in Wenksville burned down. A new M. E. Church at Wenksville.

THE WENKSVILLE METHODIST CHURCH

In the annual conference minutes: "A blessing in disguise? The burning of an old union church at Wenksville, York Springs circuit, will give us a brand new Methodist Church for which over $1,300.00 have been subscribed."

At a fourth quarterly conference meeting at Bendersville, February 5, 1892, Oliver Orner reported $1,320.00 on subscription for a new M. E. Church at Wenksville.

The following report appeared in the conference journal for the year 1892: "The new church at Wenksville was dedicated on September 25, 1892. The minutes of the third quarterly conference held at Huntersdown read as follows: "In the morning Rev. Leonard Gardner preached on, 'Thou art Peter, on this rock will I build my church and gates of Hell shall not prevail against it.' The afternoon children's meeting was addressed by Revs. Gardner, Buckley and Singer. In the evening Rev. Buckley preached ably from, 'We will grow into all truth.' The church cost $2,350.00. When the day began $600 was to be provided for. At its close all was provided for but about $75."

"Two brothers of California whose father belongs to Wenksville church presented a good pulpit, Jane Heller a pulpit hymnal; Mrs. Jesse Heller, a pulpit Bible, and Mrs. Bellora Heller, a bell costing $112. Much pastoral work was done during last quarter, mostly on Wenksville appointment. A revival meeting was held lasting about four weeks."

Lesson Well Heeded

The following was published in the conference journal for the year 1892: "The new church at Wenksville was dedicated on September 25, 1892. The minutes of the third quarterly conference held at Huntersdown read as follows: "In the morning Rev. Leonard Gardner preached on, 'Thou art Peter, on this rock will I build my church and gates of Hell shall not prevail against it.' The afternoon children's meeting was addressed by Revs. Gardner, Buckley and Singer. In the evening Rev. Buckley preached ably from, 'We will grow into all truth.' The church cost $2,350.00. When the day began $600 was to be provided for. At its close all was provided for but about $75."

Church of Wenks. Since that time the two denominations have worshipped in their own church, built across the road from each other, but have maintained friendly relations and a spirit of cooperation down through the years.

Tell Of Dedication

The Wenksville Methodist Episcopal church was dedicated September 25, 1892. The minutes of the third quarterly conference held at Huntersdown read as follows: "In the morning Rev. Leonard Gardner preached on, 'Thou art Peter, on this rock will I build my church and gates of Hell shall not prevail against it.' The afternoon children's meeting was addressed by Revs. Gardner, Buckley and Singer. In the evening Rev. Buckley preached ably from, 'We will grow into all truth.' The church cost $2,350.00. When the day began $600 was to be provided for. At its close all was provided for but about $75."

Rev. George A. Singer 1892-95. At the fourth quarterly conference of the York Springs circuit held at Bendersville June 21, 1893, it was reported that an Epworth League chapter has been formed at Wenksville with Henry Cashman as president, and that Annie B. Spangler was taken into the church in full membership. Also, at this time Amos Orner was appointed in charge of music a position he served for many years.

In 1894 William Cooper was president of the Epworth League and in 1896 Henry Taylor was appointed to that office. He was appointed trustee at the same time and continued a constant worker in the church through the years that followed.

Rev. H. A. Straub served in 1896-97. L. E. Kuhn was elected secretary of the third quarterly conference October 17, 1896. He held many different offices in the church including sexton, for the longest period of time in the church's history. His grandson, Donald Wenk, is the present sexton.

Pastor Wanner Died

During this time both Beamer and Wenksville churches were in operation with H. P. Cashman, O. S. Orner, Waybright Rice, Henry Taylor and D. H. Beamer trustees for Wenksville and Wesley Oyler, George Beamer and D. H. Beamer trustees for eamers. The membership of these churches overlapped even to the point that both had some of the same trustees. Beamer's church was torn down in the early 1900's and at present those people belong to Wenksville Methodist Church.

Rev. E. W. Wanner served in 1898-1900. Early in 1900 after a brief illness Rev. Wanner passed from toil to reward. Theodore W. Havyn was appointed pastor to finish the rest of the term.

Rev. H. P. Cares 1901-02. Rev. Amos M. Bruce 1903-05. At the fourth quarterly conference in 1904 the following trustees were appointed: H. S. Cashman, O. S. Orner, Henry Taylor, D. H. Beamer, W. T. Wenk, Joseph Taylor, Henry Black, S. Grant Warren. W. T. Wenk was appointed Sunday School superintendent at the same time.

AUTO WORKERS MAY BE TARGET OF NEXT PROBE

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON — Senate probers meet today to consider where to turn next in their search for wrongdoing in labor and management.

The United Auto Workers was mentioned as one possible inquiry subject when the Rackets Committee resumes its hearings next year.

The committee yesterday wound up nearly a year of hearings devoted largely to exploring "corruption" charges against some top leaders of the Teamsters Union.

Before recessing its hearings until 1958, the committee received testimony linking the name of Criminal Court Judge Raulston Schofield of Chattanooga, Tenn., with alleged payoffs totaling thousands of dollars to "fix" cases in his court. The names of some Tennessee Teamsters officials figured in this testimony.

Judge Ignores Charge
"The door is still open if Judge Schofield wants to come in and deny this under oath," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) told newsmen. McClellan indicated he doubts the committee has the power, under the Constitution, to subpoena any judge.

Schofield was invited to attend the hearings here, but he remained in Chattanooga. The judge has declined to comment on the testimony about him, saying he wanted to "read all that was reported said at the hearing before making any statement."

In Nashville, Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee said, "A public official under these conditions owes it to the people of his state to offer his testimony without the necessity for a subpoena." The governor also said that after studying a hearing transcript "I will... do anything I can legally do which I consider to be in the best interest of the people of Tennessee."

Improper Activities
Last Saturday, Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a committee member, said the group is looking into what he termed "reports of many improper activities" by the UAW, headed by Walter Reuther. Mundt spoke of the committee's interest in the still-unsettled UAW strike against the Kohler Co. of Wisconsin as "only one facet of our investigation." He declined to be more specific.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said his staff is checking on about five situations involving three or four unions. He did not elaborate.

During the hearing yesterday, James Spence Galloway of Chattanooga, a former filling station operator, testified he paid $1,000 to have a criminal case against him "fixed" in Schofield's court, with an assist from Hubert L. Bolling, secretary-treasurer of Chattanooga Teamster Local 515.

CHRISTMAS BROADCAST

"The Prince of Peace," a special Christmas production, will be presented on "The Mennonite Hour" broadcast Sunday at 8 a.m. over WCBG, Chambersburg.

"I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day," "Away in a Manger," "Silent Night," and "Joy to the World" are a few of the carols which will be sung a cappella by a variety of choral groups on Sunday's broadcast.

Do-it-yourself enthusiasts are spending about $60 million annually on tools for the home, reports a survey made by the Twentieth Century Fund.

FIRM OUSTED AS RECEIVER

CAMDEN, N.J. — Toledo Bros. Inc., of Lakewood and Bloomsburg, Pa., has been temporarily ruled out as a receiver of the bankrupt Farmers' Exchange in Lakewood, N.J.

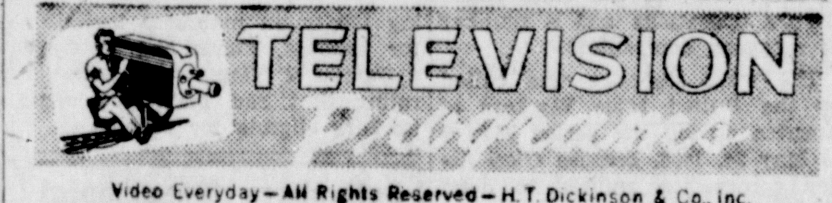

William Lipkin, referee in bankruptcy, dismissed a petition yesterday which would have extended the Farmers' Exchange receivership to Toledo Bros.

Lipkin ruled that he had reached "inescapable conclusions" Toledo Bros. is a creditor of Farmers' Exchange and has the right to become a receiver. But he gave Louis Kramer, Toledo Bros. attorney, three weeks to show that Toledo is a separate company having no connection with Farmers' Exchange. He said he would make his final ruling then.

Lipkin also denied a motion asking that he turn down an application made by Walter E. Heller Co. of New York and Chicago to intervene in the action against Toledo.

Evangelista Torricelli invented the barometer in 1643.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Richard escapes from the Green Ghoul and takes the golden thread back to Santa Land. Now, said Santa, he must bring him the black diamond from the third finger of the Phantom of the Sea.

CHAPTER 14

Richard was no longer happy. The very thought of the Phantom of the Sea caused his knees to tremble and his heart to pound. "It will take a smart, brave boy to bring back that diamond," taunted Patrick Tweedlebees, "and anyone can plainly see you're dumb and scared. Better go back where you came from and play with rubber balloons like the baby you are."

He tossed an unfilled balloon at the boy. Richard picked it up and put it in his pocket. He swallowed hard and turned to Santa. "I guess I'll be going," he mumbled.

"I told you so!" shouted Tweedlebees.

"I am going to get the black diamond," went on Richard unhappily. "Please tell me the way." Santa smiled. "Go into the setting sun until you come to a red sea. That is where the Phantom lives."

Richard did as he was told. For two days and a night he trudged westward. Late in the afternoon of the second day he saw ahead of him a great sea whose waters boiled red under the setting sun. As he came closer the sun sank lower and lower. At last it dropped into the red sea and all the land was black. Richard stood trembling in the dark. The water churned at his feet. Suddenly a voice bawled out.

"Speak! I command you!" Richard opened his mouth. "I am Prince Richard," he said in a very small voice. "I have come to see the black diamond on your finger."

"That is an evil errand," howled the Phantom. "You shall suffer for having thought of it."

Richard felt a warm breath against his face. He threw out his hands and felt the slimy body of the Phantom. He twisted back the Phantom's arm and held him locked in his grip. He caught the Phantom's hand and felt the diamond on the third finger.

But even as he began to draw off the diamond the sea boiled up and the waves rolled in and swept him off his feet. He tried to let go of the Phantom but he was locked against him and dragged into the sea.

He gasped for breath. The water swept into his mouth. His eyes bulged. His ears rang. He felt that in another instant he would be no more.

Then suddenly he was free from the Phantom.

He opened his eyes and found himself in a red palace deep in the sea. Though he was under water he could breathe and see. He gazed in astonishment at the splendid furnishings of the palace and at the fish which swam lazily around his head.

At the end of the hall he saw a creature on a red throne. He knew it was the Phantom. The Phantom was round and long and slippery. His head was pointed and his eyes bulged. On his feet were giant flippers.

He looked at Richard. "Never before," said he, "has anyone twisted the arm of the Phantom. As a punishment I sentence you

4,000 MEN ARE ELIGIBLE FOR COMPENSATION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (P)—The State Unemployment Compensation Board of Review handed down a decision Wednesday making upwards of 4,000 area mine workers eligible for more than $300,000 in unemployment compensation benefits as the result of a work stoppage in May, 1956, at the Glen Alden Corp.'s operations and a number of stripping contractors.

The work stoppage was called by the United Mine Workers of America during the period May 9 to May 24, 1956, because Glen Alden corporation refused to meet its 50-cents-a-ton payment on coal mined to the anthracite health and welfare fund. These payments amounted to more than a half-million dollars.

Created A "Lockout"

Because the Glen Alden refused to make payments to the anthracite health and welfare fund, the board ruled, it changed pre-existing employment conditions for its employees and in effect created a "lockout."

In its decision, the board of review reversed a decision by referee Stanley J. Davis, at the local district office of the Bureau of Employment Security, who had ruled the walkout a strike on the part of the UMWA and thus making

Receives $500,000 Order For Electrons

BALTIMORE, Md. (P)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today it has received a $500,000 order from American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for electronic equipment it said will help clarify and speed up trans-oceanic telephone calls to Europe.

The firm said 10 power amplifiers will be installed between now and next April at A.T.&T.'s Lawrenceville, N.J., transmission site. Westinghouse said the amplifiers will boost output of A.T.&T.'s four ing the union members ineligible for benefits. Davis had reversed a Bureau of Employment Security ruling that had found the mine workers eligible for benefits.

FRENCH FRET OVER INVASION BY ENGLISH

By STANLEY JOHNSON
PARIS — With the "war" falling, North Africa in revolt and a state of bare, controlled chaos prevailing politically, France has still another major preoccupation these days. It's called "The defense of the French language" and is a med primary against such subversive English imports as "cocktail," "rush," "pick-up" and "star."

The literary weeklies and the after column to this subject every week as seem to be making little or no progress. The French language keeps picking up more English as day follows day to the weekend.

The conceptions of French and English speaking persons about language are basically opposed. English speaking persons think of the language as a continually growing thing adopting new words and modes of expression as a matter of course. The French consider their language a finished, perfect thing which should be guarded almost like the treasures of a museum.

Invasion Treasure House
And some in French here are convinced that Britons and Americans are determined to invade this treasure house as part of a plot to supplant French influence in all fields throughout the world.

The spread of Frenchified English words appears based on two fundamental reasons. Words in new arts and sciences originate in English and are adopted and "le snobism." Many upper-class and would-be upper-class French delight in imitating the British aristocracy.

But the way they do it makes English-speaking persons laugh. Just recently, for example, the newspaper "Figaro" lamented that with the perfectly good French word "annoncer" to describe a radio announcer the French broadcasting and television networks insisted on using "the English form of speaker for a man and speaker for a woman."

Why Use "Flash"
"Le Monde" asked this week why French news agencies said "flash" instead of the equivalent "éclair" and why one comes into an airport on a "beam" instead of the "faisceau herzien." But the same issue of "Le Monde" back-lid a little by reporting that Algerian Minister Robert Lacoste was consulting "les leaders du gouvernement" and might address "un meeting."

Describing a holiday trip, a young Frenchman wrote of listening to "les smash-bits" on "le pick-up" before going out for "un hamburger et un milkshake au snack-bar" dressed in his shorts et pull-over. He had been reading "unbest-seller" and also found time to see "un Western musical en cinemascope et technicolor" with "une star" and "des pin-up girls" whom he particularly admired.

A professor said many of these could be called "Anglo-Saxon behavior words" and suggested some of them be scooped completely. He urged the French to write "coquette" (pronounced co-ke-ta) for guess what and "requand" (pronounced va-kan) for those few free days at the end of the week. But he asked what the "requand" is for "le relax" when the language already possessed "detente"?

Three Levels For Care For Aged And Indigent Are Proposed In County Home Committee Report

The second installment of the complete text of the report filed by a special committee on the Adams County Home is presented here today. The first installment of the report which was given to the Adams County commissioners on Wednesday was published in The Gettysburg Times on Wednesday.

As was mentioned earlier, each of the prior recommendations will now be treated in detail. Background is provided for the decisions. In some cases suggestions are made for carrying out the recommendations.

RECOMMENDATION 1 Provide 3 Levels Of Care

The County should provide three levels of care for those who become wards of the county because of their indigency.

Rather than routinely place all those who are infirm and need help in the County Home, it appears that it would be to the advantage of both the county government and to the individuals concerned to classify each case according to its nature. The simplest method is to place all the needy in the County Home. But as is so often the case in other matters, the easiest and most convenient solution is not necessarily the most desirable. The reasons for bothering to classify cases into three groups will be developed in the paragraphs that follow.

RECOMMENDATION 2 Foster Homes And Homemaker Service

Another means to be made to keep people out of the County Home as long as possible by providing other types of care. In the more forward-looking communities during recent years, older people who are unable to manage their homes, but who do have homes in which they can continue to live, are being provided with what has come to be known as "Homemaker Service." This consists of providing someone to come into the individual's home once a day for an hour or so to prepare a warm meal, to check on the condition of the occupant, and occasionally to assist in the cleaning of the house. A neighbor lady might serve as the homemaker and be reimbursed by the county for her services. If a case-worker were added to the County Home Staff, she could supervise the arrangements in such cases.

Another means of keeping indigent people from entering the County Home would be to provide foster home care. Here again, a considerable responsibility would fall on the shoulders of a case-worker. It would be her responsibility to interest people in establishing foster homes and to supervise such homes to make sure that they were real homes for the newcomers to the family. The case-worker would make routine checks to see that the foster home met certain standard requirements of care, including not only food and shelter, but such intangibles as love and kindness.

It may be argued that these are novel departures from the customary and time-tested practices of using the county homes for all those who qualify as the indigent. There are now more than 150 communities in the country using some form of homemaker service. Foster homes are used in several counties in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Quote State Official

A staff director of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare states in a letter to your committee:

In general, community planning is directed toward developing the resources that will help the aged person remain at home unless his condition requires medical care in an institution. Such programs as homemaker or housekeeper service, home medical care, and foster homes for the aged are effective in helping aged persons remain at home. The advantage of using these means of keeping the needy out of the County Home is two-fold. The aged are happier in their own homes and among their friends and neighbors. In a good foster home, they can have the homelike atmosphere of their own home.

Regardless of how good a County Home may be, the fact is that those entering it often go there with the thought that they may never leave alive. This fact tends to give a county home a morbid atmosphere. As one observer of another county home in Pennsylvania stated, "There is no life there. Everybody walks around like a ghost." Out of consideration for these elderly people, should we not endeavor to keep them as long as possible in their own communities amidst familiar surroundings?

Can Save Money

Another reason for keeping these people out of the County Home is that the county can save money by doing so. Statutes of both the State of Pennsylvania and the Federal Government forbid the payment of Public Assistance funds to residents of a county home, except to the blind. A needy individual can qualify to receive State Public Assistance funds until he enters a county home, but once he enters such an institution, these payments are terminated. If he is in want and can be taken care of in a foster home, he can receive Public Assistance help. Or if he can remain in his own home, he can qualify for such assistance. The irony of the situation is this: the state will provide assistance to an individual if he is in want but is not in such a condition as to warrant his being moved to a County Home; however, once he enters such an institution the state relieves itself of all responsibility. Adams County is denying itself available state and federal funds, as long as it places people in the County Home who could be provided for in foster homes or in their own homes.

It is not contemplated, if this program were introduced, that there would be many at the beginning who would be able to use the homemaker service feature, nor that many families would come forward offering their homes as foster homes. However, over a period of years, with the proper promotion given by a good case-worker and an active County Home superintendent, it is believed that as many as 20 or 25 per cent of those who might otherwise enter the County Home could be kept in their own homes or in foster homes. Of course, this does not imply that any of the present guests should be moved from the County Home unless they so request.

RECOMMENDATION 3 Providing For The Sick

To provide for those who are ill, it is suggested that the lower floor of the renovated portion of the Annex be converted to an infirmary. There are nine rooms in this area which are modern and which would lend themselves to this use.

This arrangement would not provide indefinitely for all the ill, but, at least for the present, it would materially improve the situation. The present arrangement of distributing the ill through the three buildings so that no one attendant will be overburdened with their care should be terminated. The welfare of the patient and not the convenience of the operation should be the deciding feature in this instance. If the patients are grouped in one building, better care can be provided by attendants schooled in the care of the ill.

In each of two neighboring counties, the ratio of the number of patients requiring infirmary attention to the number of other guests in the home is about one to two. At least three counties in the state are planning to build, or have recently built, extensive additions to their county home hospitals, ranging from 42 to 80 additional beds. The care of the chronically-ill is one of the great unmet needs of society. County homes tend to get the "left-overs" after hospitals, nursing homes, convalescent homes and families have provided for others.

One Of Pressing Needs

Here in Adams County we have hardly recognized the need for providing special care for the ill. The correction of this situation is one of the most pressing needs at the home.

There is evidence to indicate that in recent years a greater portion of the people entering the County Home are physically infirm than was the case many years ago. With the present-day Social Welfare provisions, such as Social Security and Public Assistance, older people are better able to provide for themselves than in years past when these programs were not in operation. The result is that in many cases it is only when an old person becomes ill that he finds it necessary to turn to the County Home for shelter. It appears that in future years this trend may be accentuated and the county homes will increasingly become a haven of refuge for the indigent ill more than for just the indigent infirm. Also, a satisfactorily operated program of homemaker service and foster home care would tend to increase the ratio of the sick to the able-bodied at the home.

If the need arises for more beds, an elevator can be installed in the improved portion of the annex, making the second floor available with its ten beds.

The occupants of an infirmary require round-the-clock attention, seven days a week. This will require at least four staff members. A minimum of one and possibly, two trained nurses will be required with practical nurses completing the staff.

RECOMMENDATION 4 Other Possibilities

We must continually bear in mind that no state aid funds come to the county to ease the financial burden in caring for those in the county home. However, if a person in need is receiving nursing home care in an approved non-governmental nursing home or hospital, he may be eligible for from $85 to $165 per month from the Department of Public Assistance, depending on the nature of his illness. This is a relatively new service provided by the Department of Public Assistance. Doubtless this will be continued through the years, and the likelihood is that payments will be materially increased in the future.

In order for the wards of the county to avail themselves of the state aid, your committee recommends that the two following possibilities be explored: (a) the adding of a wing to the Warner Hospital for the care of the indigent chronically-ill, or (b) the operation of a non-profit-making nursing home by a group of public-minded citizens to care for the chronically-ill.

The probability exists that with either of the above arrangements Public Assistance funds would be available for the care of the indigent sick. The saving to the county would be appreciable. If 15 patients were able to qualify for nursing home payments at an average of $100 per month, they would be eligible for state payments totaling $18,000 each year.

See Many Problems

The core of either of these two arrangements would be the removal of the sick patient from the County Home so that he could qualify for state aid. With either arrangement, some plan might be developed so that at the end of each year the county would contribute to the institution a sum of money equal to the difference between the payments made by the state and the actual cost of operating the facility.

There would be many problems connected with the setting-up of either of these two arrangements and considerable time would be required to work out the details, but the benefits to the county would be substantial.

There is another reason for providing a facility at the Warner Hospital for the poor who are chronically ill. A good argument can be presented against maintaining at the County Home a hospital when within a mile and a half of the home is located a hospital fully staffed and equipped to provide for the sick. Should the county endeavor to duplicate these services? Would not the county, the Warner Hospital, and the patient all benefit if the county were to aid in the establishment of a facility at the hospital for patients requiring long-term care? Could not some equitable financial arrangement be worked out which would be satisfactory to both the county and the hospital? These are questions which you may wish to study. The answers to them might well lead to a wholly enlightened solution of the problem of providing for the county's chronically ill.

Conferences Held

Several conferences have been held with responsible officials of the hospital regarding this matter. They expressed a lively interest in the proposal and suggested that a thorough study be made of it.

The plan outlined in Recommendation 3 above for the use of the renovated portion of the annex as an infirmary is intended to provide for an immediate need. A minimum of two or three years would be necessary for the development of either of the two alternative plans. If, upon thorough exploration it should be considered desirable to proceed with either of the plans, the rooms used in the County Home for infirmary purposes could be made available immediately for the regular guests of the home.

(The third installment of the committee's report will be published Friday.)

Most of the escapees who have been permitted to "escape" from Communist China into Hong Kong have been older people, physically handicapped and others considered useless as laborers, reports Republic of China sources.

Jurist Willing To Run For Governor

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Judge Henry X. O'Brien of Allegheny County Common Pleas Court said Wednesday he is willing to run for the Republican nomination for governor if he is asked to do so by responsible party officials.

"If the nomination were offered to me by people of responsibility, I would run," he told a newsman. "Otherwise, I would not lift my hand to get it."

"In my case," he added, "it would definitely be a sacrifice. If I announced a candidacy for governor, I would immediately resign from the Common Pleas bench." O'Brien failed in his bid for the GOP nomination for State Supreme Court last year.

BIG OPERATION

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Officials of Southwest Hospital here believe they have set a record of some sort. Six brothers and sisters ranging in age from 5 to 14, had their tonsils and adenoids taken out on the same day.

The six children of Mrs. Jean Grace of Lawton are Virginia, 14; Howard Earl, 13; Eugene, 11; Helen, 9; Harold, 7, and Heth, 5. They were described as model patients.

NIGERIAN WILL TAKE $64,000; WANTS DEGREE

NEW YORK (AP)—Theophilus Aderonu has decided to take his $64,000 and his entangled domestic problems out of the television limelight.

The 30-year-old Bible expert from Nigeria told a nationwide television audience on CBS-TV's $64,000 Question program last night: "I have been so embarrassed, I can't concentrate in what I'm doing."

After the show, he told newsmen he plans to enter Northwestern University in January to continue working toward a medical degree. Ultimately, he said, he wants to establish a hospital near his home in Oyo, Nigeria.

One of the things that apparently embarrassed Aderonu was that he claimed to favor a reconciliation with a divorced wife without mentioning that he had married again since the divorce. He also is having trouble with the immigration service.

Divorced in 1956 Before withdrawing from the quiz program, Aderonu, whose usually beaming face is scarred from tribal ceremonies, had answered correctly all the questions put to him about Bible subjects. He had gone as high as the $9,000 question and could have won as much as $256,000 but he said his embarrassment was so great that he would take the $64,000 and quit. Aderonu and his first wife Faye were divorced in August 1956. After he began winning on the big money show, she appeared in Bronx Domestic Relations

Court and sued him for nonsupport of their child.

At the time, Aderonu talked as if he hoped for a reconciliation. A judge ordered him to pay $30 a week for support of the child.

Aderonu told his television audience that he was willing to remarry his first wife if she would have him.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, records indicated he had taken a second wife on April 30, 1957. The records gave her name as Kathryn L. McGee, 33.

This came up while immigration officials investigated Aderonu's status as a student. He came to this country on a student's visa but is not presently enrolled in any school.

BRYN MAWR, Pa. (AP)—A three-year-old boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Bryn Mawr Hospital after he was struck by an automobile near his home.

He was Cord Bischoff of Wayne son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bischoff. The father is an engineer with General Electric.

RULE CARRIERS CAN'T BARGAIN DUTY TO PUBLIC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission held Wednesday that common carriers may not bargain away through labor contracts, such as the "hot cargo" clause, their duty to serve the public.

The commission ruled that a group of motor carriers acted unlawfully in refusing to accept shipments handled at Oklahoma City by Galveston Truck Corp. of Houston, Tex.

The commission told nine motor carriers to cease and desist from practices which it found to be in violation of terms, conditions, and limitations of the operating authority issued them by the ICC.

Lacks Jurisdiction The commission held that it lacked jurisdiction to rule on legality of the "hot cargo" clause

Ike Defies Cold In French Palace

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower today laughingly refused to keep on his overcoat in President Rene Coty's cold hallway as he arrived for lunch.

"No, no," warned Coty as Ike began peeling off his coat. "Don't take your coat off here. It's cold."

"Thank you, Mr. President," replied Eisenhower, "but I'm all right."

Off came the coat. An ambulance stood by the building.

Officials said an ambulance was usually at the palace for big dinners and receptions—but seldom for such small, intimate luncheons as today's.

Eisenhower's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, preceded the President to the palace as he did last night.

Eisenhower was accompanied by Secretary of State Dulles and the President's son, Maj. John Eisenhower.

Dining with Coty and Eisenhower were Premier Felix Gaillard and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

MAKE DEMAND FOR W. N. GUINEA

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Djuanda said today Indonesia will "eliminate Dutch economic interests" from the island republic unless the Netherlands gives up West New Guinea.

Even if the neighboring Dutch colony is turned over to Indonesia, the Premier told a press conference, the Dutch will never regain the powerful economic position they held in Indonesia before the anti-Dutch campaign began about three weeks ago.

Industries Nationalized Djuanda asserted that some Dutch industries and businesses which have been taken over by his government—such as shipping, port facilities, electricity and gas—will remain nationalized. But he added that if West New Guinea, called West Irian by the Indonesians, is yielded by the Netherlands the Dutch will receive compensation for these enterprises.

BUDD CO. BUYS AIRCRAFT STOCK

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Budd Co. today announced it has bought somewhat more than 10 per cent of the outstanding common stock of Solar Aircraft Co. of San Diego, Calif.

Edward G. Budd, Jr., company president, said he has asked for representation on the Solar board of directors in order to study more fully the value of a closer relationship to the two stockholder groups.

Solar has done extensive work in advanced metallurgy for aircraft engines and airframes. Budd is producing jet engine components and is doing research work in the design and fabrication of high heat resisting metal structures for airframes and missiles.

Solar sells most of its products to the Air Force and to aircraft producers. Budd's jet engine and Allied work represent a much smaller percentage of its total sales.

The church pennant is the only flag that may be flown above the Stars and Stripes.

The Premier's statement was the first official admission that these Dutch interests have been nationalized. Previously officials had said that only the Dutch-owned port facilities had been taken over permanently by the government. The earlier explanation was that the disposition of the other interests would be decided later.

Djuanda criticized the United States for abstaining when the West New Guinea issue came up recently in the United Nations.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Crucible Steel Co. of America has announced it has acquired full ownership of Rem-Cru Titanium, Inc., a firm it had owned jointly with Remington Arms Co.

The firm said the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission approved the transaction which involved the exchange of 150,000 shares of newly issued crucible stock for 5,000 shares of stock and $2,800,000 in notes of Rem-Cru.

The Rem-Cru plant is near Midland, Pa.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Richard escapes from the Green Ghouls and takes the golden thread back to Santa Land. Now, said Santa, he must bring him the black diamond from the third finger of the Phantom of the Sea.

CHAPTER 14 THE PHANTOM

Richard was no longer happy. The very thought of the Phantom of the Sea caused his knees to tremble and his heart to pound. "It will take a smart, brave boy to bring back that diamond," taunted Patrick Tweedlebees, "and anyone can plainly see you're dumb and scared. Better go back where you came from and play with rubber balloons like the baby you are."

He tossed an inflated balloon at the boy. Richard picked it up and put it in his pocket. He swallowed hard and turned to Santa. "I guess I'll be going," he mumbled.

"I told you so!" shouted Tweedlebees.

"I am going to get the black diamond," went on Richard unhappily. "Please tell me the way."

Santa smiled. "Go into the setting sun until you come to a red sea. That is where the Phantom lives."

Richard did as he was told. For two days and a night he trudged westward. Late in the afternoon of the second day he saw ahead of him a great sea whose waters boiled red under the setting sun, of the dark.

As he came closer the sun sank lower and lower. At last it dropped into the red sea and all the land was black.

Richard stood trembling in the dark. The water churned at his feet. Suddenly a voice bawled out.

Who are you and why have you come to my sea?

Richard tried to speak but he could not find his voice. He wanted to turn and run but he could not. The phantom voice roared again.

4,000 MEN ARE ELIGIBLE FOR COMPENSATION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — The State Unemployment Compensation Board of Review handed down a decision Wednesday making upwards of 4,000 area mine workers eligible for more than $300,000 in unemployment compensation benefits as the result of a work stoppage in May, 1956 at the Glen Alden Corp.'s operations and a number of striking contractors.

The work stoppage was called by the United Mine Workers of America during the period May 9 to May 24, 1956, because Glen Alden corporation refused to meet its 50-cent-a-ton payment on coal mined to the anthracite health and welfare fund. These payments amounted to more than a half-million dollars.

Created A "Lockout"

Because the Glen Alden refused to make payments to the anthracite health and welfare fund, the board ruled, it changed pre-existing employment conditions for its employees and in effect created a "lockout."

In its decision, the board of review reversed a decision by referee Stanley J. Davis, at the local district office of the Bureau of Employment Security, who had ruled the walkout a strike on the part of the UMWA and thus making the rest of your days in this place under the sea" (Tomorrow: The Struggle)

Receives $500,000 Order For Electrons

BALTIMORE, Md. — Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today it has received a $500,000 order from American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for electronic equipment, it said. The order will help Westinghouse speed up trans-oceanic telephone calls to Europe.

The firm said 10 power amplifiers will be installed between now and next April at A.T.&T.'s Lawrenceville, N.J., transmission site. Westinghouse said the amplifiers will boost output of A.T.&T.'s four kilowatt transmitters to 30 kilowatts, resulting in increased reliability and better reception for intercontinental calls.

The University of Wyoming football team was fifth in the nation in average punt returns last season with a mark of 14.4 yards.
